REAL FIGHTING IN CUBA.

A Desperate Battle in the Province of Puerto Principe.

THE INSURGENTS USED MACHETES.

A Small Party of Government Guerillas Attacked by a Superior Force of Insurgents and Butchered—Captain General de Campos Wants More Soldiers.

HAVANA, June 28.—Details have reached here of a desperate fight between a portion of the insurgent force under Maximo Gomez, in the province of Puerto Principe, and seventy of the auxiliary troops of the Spanish government, known as guerillas, under Captain Aguero. The engagement took place the day of the raid on San Geronimo.

The seventy guerillas were surprised by the vanguard of Gomez's force, commanded by Nicasio Mirabel, and there was great slaughter on both sides, the fighting being mainly with machetes.

The guerillas were out on a reconnoitering expedition and unexpectedly came across the insurgent vanguard, consisting of about 400 men. At first the guerillas imagined they had only a comparatively small body of men before them, and their commander, Aguero, called upon the insurgents to halt, crying out: "Who goes there?" "Spanish forces," was the reply of the insurgent leader, as his men continued to advance rapidly upon the government guerillas. Twice or three times more did the guerillas try to halt the insurgents, but the latter pushed on quickly until their leader, seeing that the guerillas were in an awkward position, cried: "At the machete." This cry showed the government force that they were confronted by insurgents, and not by a detachment of Spanish guerillas as they had been led to believe, and the mask being thus thrown off the guerillas replied to the then oft repeated cries of "At the machetes" with volleys from their carbines as they commenced to retreat before the vastly superior force of insurgents.

Soon the government soldiers and the insurgent troops became engaged in a hand to hand combat, which quickly became little more than a massacre of the unfortunate guerillas. The insurgents, in the meanwhile, had been reinforced until they are said to have numbered fully 1,500 men composing the main body of men under the command of Gomez.

Against these overwhelming numbers the guerillas fought heroically, shouting "Viva Espana" as they defended themselves as best they could against the enemy, using trees, rocks or anything available behind which to shelter themselves as they fired as fast as possible at the insurgents who pressed forward from all sides.

For an hour the fight lasted, and nothing could be heard but the rattle of musketry, the shouts of the combatants and the clashing of machetes. It is believed that few, if any, of the guerillas escaped being killed or wounded.

Captain Aguero led his men gallantly until an insurgent slashed at his horse's head with a machete, causing it to fall and throw the guerilla leader heavily to the ground.

The insurgents engaged with Aguero's guerillas are believed to form part of the body of men which recently burned the towns of El Malato and San Geronimo after capturing the forts and garrisons of those places, and it is said the news of this fresh disaster has caused a very uneasy feeling in official circles. There is no doubt that if the government officials are willing to admit these disasters to the Spanish army in Puerto Principe within a few days, and not far from the capital of that province, that the situation of affairs there must be very grave indeed, and may prove much more so when Maceo, who is reported to have made his way from the province of Santiago de Cuba into Puerto Principe, joins his forces to those of Gomez.

That there is real cause for alarm may be gathered from the fact that Captain General Martinez de Campos has cabled to the Spanish government asking for the prompt dispatch of 14,000 additional troops from Spain to enable him to undertake an offensive campaign in Cuba after the rainy season is over. The statement has caused some excitement in Madrid, although the government has been making preparations for some time past to send additional troops to Cuba.

Advices received here from Santiago de Cuba say that an insurgent force numbering about 400 men has made an attack upon Tiarriba, in the province of Santiago de Cuba, that they were repulsed, and are now in flight being pursued by the Spanish troops.

Will Pay More Than the Scale.

PITTSBURG, June 28.—The Oliver Iron and Steel company, non-union, yesterday announced that it would pay its puddlers $4.25 a ton after July. This is an advance of twenty-five cents a ton over the Amalgamated scale.

NUGGETS OF NEWS.

The Ohio supreme court declared the law to tax inheritances by direct heirs unconstitutional.

The Dunfee-Moore fight at Bradford, Pa., last night was declared a draw in the fifteenth round.

The electric locomotive built to haul Baltimore and Ohio trains through the belt tunnel in Baltimore made its first run yesterday, and proved a complete success.

The famous Barrett Scott murder case at Butte, Neb., was concluded yesterday by the acquittal of Mullihan, Barrett and Harris, the three vigilantes who were accused of hanging the defaulting treasurer of Holt county.

THE TICKET COMPLETED.

Kentucky's Most Memorable State Convention Finally Adjourns.

LOUISVILLE, June 28.—The following is the Democratic state ticket in full: For governor, P. Watt Hardin; lieutenant governor, R. T. Tyler; treasurer, R. C. Ford; auditor, L. C. Norman; register of the land office, G. B. Swango; attorney general, W. J. Hendricks; secretary of state, Henry S. Hale; superintendent of public instruction, Ed. Porter Thompson; commissioner of agriculture, I. B. Nall.

The most memorable convention ever held by the Democrats of Kentucky closed here at 7 o'clock last night, when Congressman A. S Berry, of the Sixth congressional district, adjourned the convention sine die.

Yesterday's proceedings were of a more harmonious nature than those of the preceding two days, until about 4.50 in the afternoon, when the warmest fight of the convention developed in the race for secretary of state. In this contest there were named as candidates Hon. J. Stoddard Johnson, of Louisville; State Treasurer Henry S. Hale, Judge Charles W. Metcalf and John W. Headly, of Louisville, present secretary of state. After a hot fight and two ballots the contest centred between the forces of Hale and Metcalf, and the latter, seeing that his defeat was certain, moved that Major Hale's nomination be made unanimous.

RELIGIOUS GARB BILL SIGNED.

But Governor Hastings Vetoes the Bill to Create Quay County.

HARRISBURG, June 28.—Governor Hastings last night approved the religious garb bill, which prohibits the wearing of religious garbs by public school teachers, and vetoed the bill to create Quay county. He also vetoed the bill giving the auditor general the power of appointment of mercantile appraisers in Philadelphia, together with eleven other bills.

In support of his disapproval of the bill to create Quay county out of portions of Luzerne and Schuylkill counties the governor says that after a careful consideration of the measure he has reached the conclusion that it is without merit, and that there seems to be no necessity for it. He believes it would be onerous and oppressive to the taxpayers of the district contained within the limits of the proposed new county, and that the tax paying population of the district is not sufficient to warrant the expense of erecting public buildings and paying the cost of the administration of county affairs. He adds that the act is applicable to a single locality, and its constitutionality is more than doubtful.

A Sickening Execution.

COLUMBUS, O., June 28.—Michael McDonough, the Kenton wife murderer, was hanged at 12:08 this morning in the penitentiary annex. The execution was sickening. The rope cut deep into the neck when the body dropped, severing the trachea and jugular vein. The blood spurted over Dr. Jones, one of the physicians who was standing under the scaffold, then flowed in a torrent to the stone floor of the room. Some of the spectators turned white and with difficulty kept their nerve. McDonough exhibited the utmost indifference as to his fate up to the time he went to the scaffold. He was the coolest man who ever sat in the death cell. On the scaffold, however, he became very nervous, and his knees were trembling very noticeably when the trap was sprung.

Election Crooks Sentenced.

PHILADELPHIA, June 28.—In the cases of Hugh Boyle, Michael Devlin and John Walls, judge and inspectors, respectively, at the election held in the Eighth division of the Seventeenth ward in February, 1893, who were on trial before Judge Biddle, in quarter sessions court No. 2, on the charge of making a false return of the votes cast at the election, the jury brought in a verdict of guilty, and Judge Biddle sentenced Boyle to pay a fine of $500 and undergo imprisonment of one year and Devlin and Walls to pay a fine of $250 and undergo an imprisonment of six months each.

Stole a Valuable Violin.

NEW YORK, June 28.—Victor Fletcher, formerly of Cincinnati, a dealer and connoisseur in violins, is under arrest here, charged with having in his possession a $6,000 Stradivarius violin, the property of Mrs. Bolt, a widow, from whose husband the instrument is said to have been stolen. The instrument was taken some time since by two men, who pretended to be desirous of purchasing the violin. Its loss is said to have broken Mrs. Bolt's heart. It is said that Nicolini, Patti's husband, offered Bolt $4,000 for the violin, which was refused.

Illinois Legislators Must Act.

SPRINGFIELD, Ills., June 28.—Governor Altgeld informed a committee from the Democratic house caucus that if the legislature, now convened in special session, adjourned without acting on the matter mentioned in his proclamation he would in a week or two reassemble the legislature.

"Gail Hamilton" Leaves Washington.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—This afternoon Miss Mary A. Dodge ("Gail Hamilton") was taken from the Blaine residence and sent to her home in Salem, Mass. She occupies a special car, and is accompanied by Dr. Johnston, her physician.

Stormy Times in Newfoundland.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., June 28.—Stormy scenes occurred in the legislature yesterday in the sitting over retrenchment. Even the government supporters objected to reductions, and a government caucus had to be called to reduce obstinate members to submission, and it is doubtful if it will prove successful. Mutterings are rife in various quarters.

Persecution of Christians Ceases.

LYONS, June 28.—Advices received here from Shanghai at the headquarters of the Catholic missions say that the persecution of foreigners in the Chinese province of Szchuen have ceased, and that an imperial decree has been issued ordering the damage done to the property of the missionaries and others to be repaired.

THE COLLEGE OARSMEN.

All Ready for the Great Race Between Harvard and Yale.

PERSONNEL OF THE CONTESTANTS.

Only Two of the Harvard Crew Have Ever Rowed in a 'Varsity Race, While the Yale Men, with One Exception, Are All Veterans.

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 28.—The Harvard 'Varsity crew, which meets Yale on the Thames this evening, will enter the race under conditions radically different from anything a crimson eight has experienced in years. No Harvard oarsman remembers a crew from Cambridge that has worked harder or met with more difficulties than the eight that will struggle with the blue today. First and most important of all, the men have undergone a system in training altogether different from that which has been in vogue at Harvard for some years, and it required constant attention and faithful application from every member of the crew to become thoroughly accustomed to the new conditions.

For the first time in years the crew was coached by a single man, Mr. Clifford Watson, whose control of the men was absolute. He introduced his own ideas as to the training and style of rowing, and no one was allowed to interfere with him.

Ballard. Damon. HARVARD. Fennessy. Shepard.

From the time that he took the crew candidates in hand last fall they have been under his watchful eye in all their practice work, and his careful coaching has continued as tirelessly this week as when it began three months ago.

The Harvard stroke this year is long, with plenty of power in it, and the oarsmen, since they have been on the Thames, have been pulling from thirty-four to thirty-eight to the minute. It is not an essentially different stroke from that used by Yale, both being a modification of the English stroke. The Harvard crew sits straighter than Yale and swings well forward from the hips before sliding on the recovery, while their leg drive is not so snappy as that of the Yale eight, and is started with the body just a little beyond the perpendicular. Harvard finishes with bodies erect and with hands drawn into chest, while the Yale men finish with bodies slightly forward and hands several inches out from the body.

The Yale stroke is better developed in some ways. The Harvard oars do not take the water as clearly as Yale's and the blades are not brought out on the recovery very evenly. The men who sit in the Harvard boat are all oarsmen of some experience, though Bullard and Fennessy are the only two who have ever rowed in a 'varsity race. The statistics of the crew as now made up are as follows:

Position.	Name.	Weight.	Height.	Age.
Stroke	J. R. Bullard	164	5.8¾	22
No. 7	E. H. Fennessy	172	5.10½	22
No. 6	F. N. Watriss	176	5.11¾	24
No. 5	S. Hollister	176	5.11	20
No. 4	J. D. Shepard, Jr.	170	5.9	22
No. 3	J. E. Chatman	169	5.10	20
No. 2	J. A. Stillman	167	5.10½	20
Bow	E. N. Wrighting'n	168	5.10	20
Coxsw'n	F. L. Rust	106	5.6¾	19
Sub	L. T. Damon	162	5.10	24
Sub	K. H. Lewis	168	5.9½	21

Total weight of crew, including coxswain, 1,468 pounds.

This morning it seems impossible that Hollister will be able to row, and it is expected that Jennings, of the freshmen crew, will be substituted.

With one exception the Yale crew this year is composed of veterans. All of them but Langford and Longacre rowed on last year's crew, and the latter would have been a member of that eight, in all probability, if he had not been suspended. He was a member of the '93 'varsity crew and is no novice in the sport, so that Langford, the freshman, is the only new man who will sit in the Yale boat in the race.

The principal fault with the Yale team is that they are heavy. This fact was the cause of much talk last year, which ceased, of course, after the race was won by the heavyweights. It was said that they were apt to lack the celerity of a lighter crew, and even "Bob" Cook seemed to be troubled over this point. They defeated Harvard, though, and it was conceded that their weight was not a matter to have worried about at all. Nevertheless the crew did not pull the four miles in phenomenal time, and a comparison shows that the weight of the crew this year exceeds that of last year. The statistics of the crew are:

Longacre. Treadway. Armstrong. Langford. Beard. Cross. Holcomb. Dater. YALE.

Position.	Name.	Weight.	Height.	Age.
Stroke	George Langford	163	6.1½	19
No. 7	R. L. Treadway	173	6	21
No. 6	J. M. Longacre	177	6¼	21
No. 5	A. W. Dater	182	6.2	21
No. 4	W. R. Cross	194	6.2½	21
No. 3	W. M. Beard	176	5.8½	19
No. 2	H. C. Holcomb	177	5.9½	21
Bow	R. Armstrong	155	5.8½	21
Coxsw'n	T. L. Clark	107	5.3	20

Total weight of crew, including coxswain, 1,525.

Since the inauguration of the Yale-Harvard boat races, in 1876, Yale has won twelve and Harvard seven contests. The best time ever made over the Thames course was by the victorious Yale crew in 1888, the time being 20 min. 10 secs.

Yale Freshmen Win.

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 28.—Harvard's freshmen eight-oared crew, confident of victory, were defeated yesterday by Yale, while Columbia was third in the annual triangular race over two miles of Thames water. Coach Watson, of Harvard, is said recently to have stated that if his freshmen could not win this year there was little hope for his 'Varsity eight. Yale led Harvard by a length in 10 min. 28 sec. Columbia was fifteen lengths behind Harvard.

HARVARD'S DECLINATION.

It is Received with Regret by Athletes of Oxford and Cambridge.

LONDON, June 28.—The reply of Harvard university's committee on athletic sports to the invitation of Oxford and Cambridge universities to take part in an international athletic contest in the United States next autumn in conjunction with Yale university, has been received. It is a courteous declination, the reply saying in part:

"We could hardly accept your invitation without assuming, in appearance at least, that Harvard and Yale occupy the prominent position among American universities which is held among English universities by Oxford and Cambridge. As there is no foundation in fact for such a pretension, we think it better for university athletics in this country, as well as for university interests in general, that we should not lend any countenance to it, and that we should, furthermore, avoid all semblance of a spirit of exclusiveness towards our sister universities."

The declination has caused much regret at Oxford and Cambridge. The Englishman had anticipated the visit with the greatest possible interest and enthusiasm, and the athletes had built up many hopes on the result of their visit. The reasons given by Harvard for declining the invitation are regarded as sentimental rather than real.

Writ of Error for Murderer Price.

DENTON, Md., June 28.—The lawyers for Marshall E. Price, the murderer of little Sallie Dean, have been successful in their efforts to secure a writ of error, which will probably delay the execution of Price until after the case goes to the court of appeals That is to say, the execution will probably be delayed should lynchers not take the matter into their hands. Price was to be hanged a week hence, but Governor Brown will probably respite him until October, when the court of appeals meets.

MINNEAPOLIS, June 28.—Harry T. Hayward, now in jail under the sentence of death for the murder of Catherine Ging, has made formal application to the New York Life and Travelers' Accident Insurance companies for the $10,000 insurance on the life of his victim. He is supposed to have taken this action to bear out his claim to innocence. SIX FIREMEN KILLED.

Buried Under Falling Walls at a Minneapolis Conflagration.

SEVERAL OTHERS SERIOUSLY HURT

It Is Feared That There May be Still More Dead Than the Number Given, and That Their Bodies Are Under the Smoking Mass.

MINNEAPOLIS, June 28.—The most disastrous fire which ever visited Minneapolis accomplished its work of destruction and death last night. Within an hour after the alarm rang in, at 11 o'clock, six firemen paid the penalty of death for their faithfulness in trying to save the property of others.

The dead are: Joseph Pay, truck No. 2; Walter Richardson, hose No. 8; Frank Rulaine, lieutenant of hose company No. 6; John Horn, truck No. 3; Bert Thomas, hose No. 10, died on the way to the hospital; unidentified new member of engine company No. 14.

The seriously injured, so far as known, are: Ed. Thielan, lieutenant of hook and ladder company No. 2; Captain Cadwell, engineer of company No. 6. Several others were seriously injured, and it is thought there may be still more dead who have not yet been extricated from under the walls, which fell and crushed them.

The property loss consisted of the entire demolition of the building occupied by McDonald Brothers, dealers in crockery, chinaware, glassware, silverware and gas fixtures. The building was of four stories, brick walls and wooden interior framework, and was well stocked. The fire originated in the boxes and packings stored in the rear of the building, and was beyond the power of the fire department to control. At a few minutes before midnight the walls fell, one side wall falling in and the other falling out into the alley where the firemen were at work. The total loss will aggregate over $100,000; [illegible] surance unknown.

San Francisco's $2,000,000 Fire.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 28.—Three alarm[illegible] of fire last night brought out the entire department to suppress a conflagration that started in the rear of the San Francisco box factory, at the corner of Fifth and Bryant streets. The fire spread rapidly, and before it was gotten under control over a hundred buildings had been burned and $2,000,000 worth of property destroyed. One death is reported. A Miss Gilfoy White, ill attempting to save some of her belongings, was covered with burning oil and burned to death. A number of people have received injuries from falling walls and flying timbers. Over a hundred families have lost their homes and all they possessed. A large number of horses were burned to death.

Death of Nancy King Blaikie.

ENGLEWOOD, N. J., June 28.—Nancy King Blaikie died here yesterday. She was born Aug. 25, 1813, at Waterford, Pa. Her late husband, Rev. Dr. Alexander Blaikie, to whom she was married nearly fifty years, was widely known in the United Presbyterian church. He was a missionary in the far west in his youth, founder, and for a quarter of century, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Boston, and was a preacher in active service for nearly sixty years. Her grandfather, Captain Robert King, was the first settler of northwestern Pennsylvania and served in both the French and Indian and revolutionary wars.

Dr. Cyrus Edson Resigns.

NEW YORK, June 28.—Today's World says: Dr. Cyrus Edson has resigned as a member of the New York board of health. It is thought that the mayor will try to get Dr. Bryant to take the office again. A reporter saw Dr. Edson at his country home at Larchmont, and he confirmed the report that he had resigned. "I felt that I could not remain in office," he said, "under the conditions the mayor proposed, as I felt that it would not be compatible with my dignity and self respect to do so."

Tornado at Put-in-Bay Islands.

CLEVELAND, June 28.—News comes by boat of a tornado at Put-in-Bay islands. One wall of the brick town hall at Put-in-Bay was blown down, half the trees in Victory park were uprooted, and great havoc was wrought in the peach orchards. Telegraph wires were blown down, and cable communication with the island destroyed. The storm lasted half an hour, and was said to have been the worst in thirty years. It caused consternation among the campers and summer boarders.

The Chinese Commander Weakened.

LONDON, June 28.—The Times' Hong Kong correspondent telegraphs that Japanese warships are assembling at Makung and preparing to attack the Black Flags. The Chinese general has repeatedly demanded the withdrawal of the British forces, and on one occasion guns were trained on the foreign settlement, but British men-of-war Spartan, Rainbow, Readbreast, Plover and Pigmy cleared for action, when the Chinese commander countermanded his order.

SULLIVAN'S BIG BENEFIT.

How "Parson" Davies Checkmated an Attachment Against John L.

NEW YORK, June 28.—Big hearted, big fisted and good natured John L. Sullivan, the once world's champion heavyweight pugilist, had a rousing benefit at the Madison Square Garden last night.

Several of those who have distinguished themselves in the fistic arena were on hand to give friendly "scraps" for the amusement of the thousands of friends, who by their attendance signified their good wishes for "the man from Boston." The crowd was quite as large as that which witnessed the benefit tendered to Jack Dempsey a few weeks ago, and when Sullivan was seen by the multitude the walls of the big amphitheater were shaken with the cheers and plaudits.

Early in the evening it was known that the Metropolitan Job Printing company had secured an attachment against the box office receipts. A deputy sheriff was promptly on hand, but was confronted by Max Hirsch, who represented "Parson" Davies, of Chicago.

Hirsch was fortified with a bill of sale which showed that on June 25 Davies had bought the privileges of the show from Sullivan for the consideration of $5,300. This instrument was more than sufficient to keep the deputy sheriff from interfering with the receipts. When Parson Davies was seen by a reporter of the Associated Press in reference to the matter he said: "I bought all the privileges of this show from John L., and if I make any profit on the deal I can use my own judgment as to the disposal of it."

At 11:10 o'clock the last and biggest event on the program was in order. It was between Champion Jim Corbett and the beneficiary, John L. Sullivan. When the men climbed through the ropes pandemonium broke loose and both were compelled to make brief speeches. Corbett saying, as he grasped Sullivan's hand. "It will always be a pleasure to me to assist my friend John L. Sullivan, and he has only to command me at any time."

The men then boxed three short rounds, and the big benefit was ended by the crowd carrying Sullivan and Corbett into their dressing rooms.

American Tennis Players Lead.

NEWTON, Mass., June 28—Hovey and Hobart defeated Pim and Mahoney at yesternoon's play in the big tennis tournament and won prizes valued at $400. The Americans won in three straight sets, outplaying their opponents at every point, notwithstanding the fact that Hobart was obliged to stop playing in the forenoon on account of a fainting fit. After the match Pim stated that the game put up by the American team would beat any pair in the world.

Committed Murder for Ten Dollars.

COCHRAN, Ga, June 28—Mrs William Nobles paid Gus Jones, a negro, $10 to kill her husband. The body was buried by the woman, the negro, and the woman's two daughters All have been arrested. Nobles was an old farmer of Twigs county. When the body was found Mrs. Nobles confessed. Jones, in his confession, says it took three blows to kill the old man, and that Mrs. Nobles herself struck one of them.

Rebecca Wilkinson, of Brownsvalley, Ind., says: "I have been in a distressed condition for three years from nervousness, weakness of the stomach, dyspepsia and indigestion until my health was gone. I had been doctoring constantly with no relief. I bought one bottle of South American Nervine, which did me more good than any $50 worth of doctoring I ever did in my life. I would advise every weakly person to use this valuable and lovely medicine; a few bottles of it have cured me completely. I consider it the grandest medicine in the world." Warranted the most wonderful stomach and nerve cure ever known. Sold by J. E. Mills, Middletown, N. Y.

Next to Nothing.

"H'm! Have you been taking anything for your trouble?" inquired the village doctor of a patient from out beyond Squantum Corners, who complained of being all run down.

"Well, no." was the reply. "I haven't taken anything worth speaking of during the last three months, except a couple o' bottles o' Tombs' tiptop tonic, and a bottle or two o' Potter's peculiar pectoral, and two or three bottles o' K. K. K., and a box or two o' Piebald pills for plain people, and a few doses o' Indiana invigorator, and two or three kinds o' homemade bitters, and some compound extract o' cowgin and quinine, and some liver medicine, and a few powders o' one kind and another, and a bottle o' something that we found in the cellar with the label lost off, and a dose o' salts now and then, and a little slippery elm tea, and some recipes that the neighbors brought in, and three or four sample bottles o' stuff that agents left at the house. Outside o' these I haven't taken a single thing except some root and bark tea and some infusion o' red clover blossoms that my wife insists on my taking three times a day. To be sure, I have been wearing a porous plaster and liver pad most o' the time, and soaking my feet regularly every night, and living on health food and malted milk. But outside of that I haven't done a thing, doctor, not a thing!"—Truth.

Gentlemen:—I have used tobacco for over twenty-five years, chewing and smoking every day from 7 a. m. to 9 p. m., stopping only for meals

On Monday, February 4th, I called at your office in Springfield, and bought a bottle of the Cure which I used as directed, and on the tenth day the desire for tobacco had left me and it has not returned. I did not lose a meal while taking the Cure. My appetite has improved and I consider Narcoti-Cure a grand thing.

Very respectfully,

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and ends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50 cent bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

Funny, isn't it? If it were not that some people are afraid of two or three men down our way we would make our end of the city look like a "Greater Middletown" within three months. We are doing considerable in that line nevertheless, but it is harder, of course, to work with this constant grumbling and objecting. There were men who opposed the Erie Road because it would destroy teaming. Another thought electric lights in Middletown might make people stumble over the shadows. Another said if they changed the name of "Canal street" to the old musical Indian name of Wawayanda avenue, some of his friends couldn't spell it. Another wanted one of the church spires taken down for fear it would fall. Another said if people would do less washing and measure the water they used, Middletown would not need any more.

Richmond Hill is not backed by narrow gauged men. Wide streets appropriately named, 800 shade trees, 100 lamp posts, extra sized building lots, easy terms; in fact, with an abiding conviction and faith in the greater Middletown, we offer to-day to home-seekers the greatest opportunity in years. We have helped over twenty persons to build homes in the last three months, and we are still "in the ring."

OTISVILLE TEACHERS' CLASS.

Commencement Exercises, Thursday Evening—Large Attendance—An Interesting Programme.

Correspondence ARGUS and MERCURY.

The commencement exercises of the teachers' class were held, last evening, at the school house, which was handsomely decorated for the occasion.

The class motto, "Omnia Vincit Labor," in silver letters was framed in evergreens and rhododendrons.

A large audience filled the school room to overflowing and a number were unable to find seats.

The singing of "Traveling the High Road to Learning," began the exercises, after which a programme of recitations and a most amusing dialogue about "Miranda Slycher's Visit to Salt Lake City," was rendered by the pupils of Mr. Kaufman's room.

The singing of "Uncle Sam's School," introduced the second part of the programme, when the seven pupils to be promoted to the upper room took their places on the platform. They gave following selections:

German Wedding.....
Edna Northrup and Frank Otto, Easton Fraser officiating as the parson.
When Jimmy Comes from School..... .....
Sylvia E. Easton.
The Owl a Boy's Composition .....
Clarence M Ketcham
The Land of Pretty Soon.....
Lillian E. Tymeson.
Family Financeering .....
Edna L. Budd.
The Fireman's Prize .....
Edith V. Conkling
Ben Brown's Wife .....
Edna K Northrup

The members of the teachers' class next occupied the stage and the president of the class, Chas. S. Harding, spoke a few words of introduction of the class to the audience.

Geo. S. Writer gave a history of the class, in which its members got a chance to see themselves as others see them.

Nellie H. Holley drew a moving picture of the woes attending the habit of forgetfulness in an essay entitled, "The Boy Who Always Forgot."

Grace I. Craig showed in her statistics that she had kept a careful account of the peculiarities of the class. Her paper was well received.

The prophet, Grace A. Boyd, predicted pleasant futures for each of her schoolmates.

The class poet, Hattie B. Beyea, showed the members of the class how they had struck her poetic fancy, and she did not spare them.

The valedictorian, Charles D. Harding, then gave his farewell address, in which he thanked those who had taken such an interest in their welfare.

The Rev. Mr. Chadwick, of the M. E. Church, and Trustee W. D. Northrup, followed in short but excellent addresses, after which the following prizes were given: A class in spelling, Annie Reilly; B class in spelling, Easton Fraser; for deportment, Ethel A. Hynard.

The scholars of the lower room received prizes as follows: A spelling class, Sylvia E. Easton; B spelling class, Edwin D. Writer; C spelling class, Rita A. Northrup; for writing, Edith V. Conkling.

A pleasing and profitable entertainment was brought to a close by the singing of a vacation song to a bell accompaniment.

The school picnic will be held in Wm. Rhodes' grove, at Westbrookville, and not Cuddebackville, as previously understood. A hearty invitation is extended to all.

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. A. E. NICKINSON, C. MACARDELL, JR. - BUSINESS MANAGER

FRIDAY, JUNE 28, 1895.

The United Societies for Liberal Sunday Laws, which claim to represent 250,000 residents of New York city, at a meeting, last night, appointed a committee to wait on Mayor Strong, remind him of his before-election pledge to favor more liberal Sunday laws, and demand that he call off Roosevelt and the other Police Commissioners, who are enforcing the Sunday laws so rigorously that New York, between Saturday night and Monday morning, is drier than Sahara.

The Irish National Federation of America has issued an appeal for contributions to aid the Irish party in the coming Parliamentary election. The circular says: "Ireland is, to-day, in better position to force her claim for Home Rule than ever before. With the Liberal party pledged to the support of Home Rule in the future, England can have no stable government and know no peace until Ireland is accorded the right of self-government." Contributions may be sent to Joseph P. Ryan, Secretary of the Federation, room 26, Cooper Union, New York.

The Capitol Commission when it met in Albany, yesterday, went into spasms of wrath at the discovery that Capitol Commissioner Perry had put about twenty Democrats to work on the capitol. Mr. Perry when called to accout for this heinous offense explained that green Republican hands were no good and that it was necessary to employ a few of the discharged Democrats, who were in every way competent, to instruct them. He said further that he had done what he did with the approval of Lieutenant-Governor Saxton. Then the Republican Commissioners "went for" Mr. Saxton and gave him to understand that no matter how ignorant and incompetent a Republican may be, he is to have the preference under this State administration to the most experienced and competent Democrat.

Mr. J. P. Morgan, who probably holds more power than any banker financier in this country, exerted his power, yesterday, to prevent the war on freight rates between Chicago and New York, which the reduction of twenty per cent. by the Erie and Grand Trunk seemed likely to precipitate, and also tried his hand at forming a new coal combination, that is expected to add materially to the prosperity of the coal-mining and coal-carrying roads. The representatives of the Chicago lines pledged themselves to maintain all published rates, and the sales agents of the coal roads decided to limit the output for July to seventy-five per cent. of that for this month and to maintain circular prices, which, in their eagerness to secure business, the agents have been cutting forty and fifty cents per ton. Mr. Morgan was backed in his demand that ruinous competition between the railroads should cease by the leading bankers of this country and Europe, and since all railroads have to come to them for financial favors, their intervention quickly brought the roads to terms.

Spring Medicine

Is a necessity because the tonic of winter air is gone, and milder weather, increased moisture, accumulated impurities in the blood and debilitated condition of the body, open the way for that tired feeling, nervous troubles, and other ills. The skin, mucous membrane and the various organs strive in vain to relieve the impure current of life. They all welcome to assist Nature at this time when she most needs help, to purify the blood, tone and strengthen the laboring organs and build up the nerves.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"I was in a run down condition. I was weak and nervous and could not eat anything. I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and before I had finished the first bottle I could see a change for the better. I kept on taking it and I am now so that I can eat heartily and can do my work." MRS. JOHN W. PEACHEY, Alloway, N. J.

BEAUTY IS POWER.

Perfection of Form, Feature, and Mind Render Women All-powerful.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

Yet blended with those perfections must be perfect health. Women are today stronger in their character, better in their nature, truer in their love, warmer in their affections, than they ever were.

But most women do not know themselves; and often when their influence is doing the most good, break down. They drift gradually and unconsciously into that tempestuous sea of woman's diseases.

Then they should remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restores natural cheerfulness, destroys despondency, cures leucorrhœa,—the great forerunner of serious womb trouble,—relieves backache, strengthens the muscles of the womb, and restores it to its normal condition, regulates menstruations, removes inflammation, ulceration, and tumors of the womb, etc.

It is a remedy of a woman for women. Millions of women owe the health they enjoy, and the influence they exert, to Mrs. Pinkham; and the success of her Vegetable Compound has never been equalled in the field of medicine for the relief and cure of all kinds of female complaints. So say the druggists.

Here is another one of thousands who speaks that others may know the truth:—

"For five years I suffered with falling of the womb, and all the dreadful aches and pains that accompany the disease. I tried several doctors and different medicines, until I lost all faith in everything. I had not tried your Compound. I watched your advertisements from day to day, and each day became more hopeful. At last I resolved to try it. I have taken seven bottles, and have gained forty pounds. My pains have all left me, and I am a well woman. I do all my own work, and can walk two miles without feeling tired. Your Compound has been worth its weight in gold to me. I cannot praise it enough." MATILDA EHNAM, Columbia, Lancaster Co., Pa.

—Newburgh papers are bragging about the excellent quality of the city water as a result of the enlargement of the reservoir. Some of those newspaper writers ought to come to Middletown and get a sniff at Monhagen. They would then appreciate their own still better.

A LUCKY ACCIDENT.

A Heavy Bar of Iron Falls on a Machinist's Head but Inflicts Little Injury.

Yesterday afternoon, John McMullen and William Holley, machinists employed in the Middletown machine shops, went to the Clemson Brothers' saw works to do a job of work. Mr. Holley had occasion to hold a piece of flat iron, weighing about twenty-five pounds, at a point about four feet above Mr. McMullen's head, and accidentally dropped it, the iron striking Mr. McMullen squarely on top of the head.

Fortunately the flat side of the iron struck Mr. McMullen, and while it bruised and slightly cut his head the injury was not as severe as it would have been had the iron struck on the edge.

Mr. McMullen was taken at once to the office of Dr. Smiley, who dressed the wound, which though not very serious is quite painful.

He leaves a wife, one daughter, Helen, wife of Dr. Cook, a prominent dentist at Hawley, Pa; a sister, Louise, at Scranton, Pa., and two brothers, Hon. E. B. Hardenberg, of Honesdale, Pa., Senator for the Wayne-Susquehanna District, and Charles, of Avoca, general yard master at that place.

EXTENSION OF THE ELECTRIC ROAD

The North Street Line to be Built a Mile Nearer Bloomingburgh

When the electric railway company was organized in this city a large tract of land in the northern end of the city was laid out into lots by the owners and broad streets were surveyed and a fine addition to our city was projected, the completion of the electric road in this city and its extension through the property being of course almost a necessity to insure the sale of lots.

An arrangement was made with the Traction Company for the extension of the North street line as soon as practicable and such an extension will be made this summer, and we are authorized to say that about a mile more of road will be built, probably before the end of July.

The extension begins on the Sands Station road, runs to Commonwealth avenue, thence north to Rhode Island avenue, to the North Plank road at the top of the hill, just beyond the toll gate.

When this much of the road is built it would seem that an extension to Bloomingburgh should be completed in a short time.

A Bursted Water Main.

About 7 o'clock, this morning, the water main on Highland avenue burst in front of the residence of ex Alderman-at-Large Harrison H. Crane. The break was a bad one and a large quantity of water escaped before the Superintendent, who was promptly notified, could turn the gate and shut off the water.

THE MOTORMAN NOT AT FAULT.

Coroner's Inquest in the William W. Osborne Case—Motorman Reilly Exonerated from All Blame Testimony of Reilly and Other Witnessed.

Motorman Thomas F. Reilly, who was in charge of the electric car which caused the death of William W. Osborne, Wednesday night, was exonerated from all blame by the coroner's jury, yesterday afternoon. Reilly was at once discharged from the custody of Capt. Grier, in whose care he spent the day.

Reilly was the first witness examined at the inquest, which began at 4.30, yesterday afternoon, and he told in a straightforward manner the way in which Osborne was struck. He said he saw the horse and man an approaching and as the animal gave no evidence of fright he did not check the speed of the car which was running at the rate of five miles an hour. Just before the car reached the horse the animal wheeled directly in front of the car and reared. Its hind feet were entangled in the harness and it fell backwards with Osborne underneath. Reilly reversed the current at once and stopped the car within half its length, but not in time to avoid striking the man and horse and they were caught under the front platform.

Messrs. Walter J. Starup and A. E. Nickinson testified as to what occurred after the car stopped, but as both gentlemen were sitting with their backs toward the motorman they did not see the collision, and of course could give no testimony as to how the accident occurred.

Motorman Geo. W. Reed, who was waiting for a car at the light works, testified that he saw a man and horse going down the street and that the traces were hanging within a foot and a half of the ground knocking against the horse's hind legs. They were passed through the breeching strap in a single loop. A few minutes later the horse returned riderless and Conductor Geo. White, who was with him, caught the animal.

Conductor Willard M. Gould was called to the stand, but as he did not see the accident could throw no further light upon the matter.

Dr. J. B. Hulett described Osborne's injuries and the case was given to the jury, who returned the following verdict:

"The jury finds that W. W. Osborne came to his death caused by the horse which he was riding becoming entangled in the harness and that the horse rearing, both fell on the track under the front platform of car No. 21, of the Middletown-Goshen Traction Company, at West Main street, at 10:50 o'clock p. m., June 26 h, and we exonerate the motorman from all blame."

The jury was as follow: Wm Millpaugh, F. D. Youngblood, O. J. J. Werley, B. S. Dayton, H. B. Dill, S D. Hampson, N. W. Wood, L G. Wilson, J. D. Rockafellow.

KILLED IN A RUNAWAY.

A Well Known Livingston Manor Man Killed at Roscoe.

From our Up Midland Correspondent.

Lafayette Gilbert, the proprietor of the Livingston Manor foundry, was almost instantly killed at Roscoe, Wednesday afternoon. His team was standing in front of Campbell, Sprague & Co's store, and for some cause, became frightened and started. Mr. Gilbert clung to the lines and made a desperate effort to stop them, but after they had run about four hundred feet, he was thrown from the wagon, the hind wheel passing over his chest. He lived but a short time after being picked up.

The deceased was formerly at Margaretville, and removed to the manor about ten years ago. He was highly respected by all who knew him. His sudden death has cast a gloom over those who knew him best.

Generous Hearted Citizens Making Liberal Contributions.

The ARGUS mentioned the fact, several days ago, that a fund was being raised for Thrall Hospital by generous hearted citizens, who deplored the fact that the appropriation for that institution was voted down at the taxpayers' election.

The work has gone forward quietly and, while we are not at liberty to state the progress made, we are assured that subscriptions continue to come in, and gentlemen of means are giving so liberally that it is hoped a generous sum will be raised.

OFF THE TRACK

An Electric Car Makes a Dash at Pronk & Foster's Store.

A few minutes before 7 o'clock, last night, one of the big double truck cars, when on the trip up from the South End, mounted the rails at the East Main street curve. The car was running at a fair speed and before its momentum could be checked it plunged across the street, breaking off a hitching post in front of Pronk & Foster's grocery. The line was blocked for twenty minutes before the car could be got back on the rails.

On the next trip up the same car again mounted the rails at the same point. This time, however, the car was being run very slowly and was stopped as soon as it left the track. It was got back on the rails without much trouble.

A man from Marlboro came to town to see the circus, yesterday. After seeing the show in the big tent, last night, he started a little one on his own hook in Fulton street and was taken care of by the police. He was reprimanded and discharged by Recorder Bradner, this morning.

DYING.

Passing out of the shadow
Into a purer light,
Stepping behind the curtain,
Getting a clearer sight,
Laying aside the burden,
This weary mortal coil,
Done with the world's vexations,
Done with its tears and toil,
Tired of all earth's playthings,
Heart-sick and ready to sleep,
Ready to bid our friends farewell,
Wondering why they weep,
Passing out of the shadow,
Into eternal day—
Why do we call it dying,
This sweet going away?

THE BEECH TREE.

There stood in the forest an old beech tree. Her top was shattered by lightning, her sides were hollow, and pieces of fungus grew on her bark. She was the oldest of a numerous family, but she had seen her children, as soon as they had grown up, fall under the woodman's ax, and only one daughter remained to her. This daughter was a young beech tree, with smooth bark and heaven aspiring crest and only 80 years old. That is the best year for a forest tree.

The old tree still thrust out her twigs and leaves in the spring, but she felt that her life was drawing to a close, for it cost her great suffering to hold herself upright. And because she knew that she must die she felt her love increase for her beautiful daughter.

Spring was approaching. The branches were still covered with the glittering frost, but the roots began to uncurl, and the warm wind melted the snow. The rivers and brooks were swelling with melted ice. In the meadows the silvery catkins burst from their wrappings, and the snowdrops peeped timidly up through the white carpet of the forest ground.

The old tree spoke to the young. "Tonight comes the violent thaw wind. It will throw me down upon my bed of leaves that I have scattered in the course of time, and I shall go back into the bosom of the mother from whom I came. Yet before I go home I will bequeath to you a gift that the gentle lord of the forest bestowed upon me when long ago he stopped to rest under my branches. You shall understand men's words and deeds and share alike in their joys and sorrows. That is the greatest happiness that can fall to our lot, but be prepared to behold more sorrow than joy." So spoke the old tree and blessed her daughter.

In the night the thaw wind came from the west. It buried ships in the waves of the sea; it rolled great masses of snow from the mountains that destroyed the homes of men in their progress; it roared through the forest, and everything that was old and weak perished. But the strong trees resisted it. It struck the old beech tree to the earth and shook her strong daughter as she wisely bent her head before the blast, and the great wind swept on.

Three days the daughter wept sparkling dew for her mother; then the sun came out and dried her tears. Then began everywhere such stir and commotion that the beech tree had no time to grieve. Her buds swelled and burst and one morning a hundred thousand trembling, tender green leaves sprang into the sunshine. That was joy! Golden yellow primroses climbed from the ground. They pushed their silken leaves out into the broad sunlight. Red and blue blossoms grew up around the primroses, and the sweet woodruff uncurled its delicate whirled leaves. That was life.

And in the midst of all this bloom and fragrance the young beech tree stood like a queen. A finch built her nest in her branches and a redheaded woodpecker paid her a visit. Once cuckoo came and once a distinguished squirrel with his bushy tail over his head ran up and down to see if he might not find an acorn. But men she had not yet seen this year, and they would have been the most welcome guests of all, since she possessed the power to understand their words and deeds. After all, one morning came a slender young girl with her long brown braids, who walked through the woods straight to the tree. However, her visit did not seem to be for the beech alone. She glanced at the decaying trees on the ground and said, "Here is the spot." Then she sat down her basket filled with May flowers and leaned back against the beech tree without a glance at its green loveliness.

The tree held her breath to hear what the maiden would say, but the pretty one was silent. Presently from the opposite side appeared a strong young man. He wore a little round hat with a curling feather like a huntsman. He crept up cautiously—so cautiously that hardly a leaf rustled under his feet. But softly as he stepped the quick ear of the maiden perceived his coming. She turned her head toward him, and the tree thought, "Now she will fly." But the girl did not fly. Instead she sprang toward the youth and threw both arms around his brown neck. "My Hans!" "My Eva!" they cried together. Then they kissed each other passionately, called each other pet names, embraced again, and the beech tree found it all very tedious.

Later they sat under the tree and spoke of their love. It was an old story they told, but it was all new to the beech tree, and she listened like a child to a fairy tale. It was a wonderful surprise to her. The youth arose from the ground, drew out his knife and began to carve in the bark of the tree. This caused the beech great pain, but she held as still as a wall.

"What is that to be?" asked the maiden.

"A heart with your name and mine," answered Hans as he continued to carve.

When the work was finished, they both looked at it, well pleased, and the tree was as happy as if a king had hung a golden chain upon her.

"Truly, men are splendid people," thought she.

Now the hunter began to sing. The tree had listened many times to the song of the finch and thrush, but she heard now for the first time something very different from bird songs.

"Listen, Hans," said the girl when the hunter paused in his song. "Your song reminds me of something. I know—people say—that in the autumn you go secretly into the woods for game. Let the poaching go. The forester is your enemy. You know why, and if he should meet you poaching in the woods, then—heavens! my Hans! if you should be brought to me with a bullet through your breast."

The young man bent over the girl, who leaned caressingly on his shoulder and kissed her lips.

"People talk too much. Don't believe everything they say, sweetheart." And putting his arm around her they went singing through the forest.

When the couple disappeared among the trees, a man in hunter's dress crept from the bushes. He carried his gun on his back and a knife in his belt. His face was white and distorted. He went up to the beech tree and beheld the heart that Hans had carved. He laughed wildly and drew out his knife to destroy the writing, then, changing his mind, he thrust the blade again in its sheath. Shaking his fist threateningly in the direction where the couple had disappeared, he muttered, grinding his teeth, "If I meet you, you poacher, only once on forbidden ground, you will have heard the cuckoo sing for the last time." With these words he went into the woods.

And the tree shook her head sadly.

The beech tree got many a sight of the faces of the children of men in the course of the summer—the poor women gathering leaves or dry bark, the berry pickers, foresters and pilgrims. But the most cherished amid the guests who gathered under her leafy roof were the youth and brown haired maid. They made weekly visits to her, spoke of their love, embraced each other, and day by day the beech tree came to love them more.

One morning before sunrise, when the mountains were just casting off their gray mist caps, Hans came alone. He carried a gun on his shoulder and stepped as lightly through the underbrush as if he would take his sweetheart by surprise. This time his coming had nothing to do with lovely Eva—but the stag comes this way to drink!

At the foot of the tree the hunter paused and stood as motionless as the beech herself. The cool morning wind blew, and the mist disappeared in heavy clouds. The gay birds fluttered and sang about the stream. The underbrush rustled. Hans raised his gun. A shot rang out on the clear air. Hans dropped his gun, sprang convulsively into the air and fell to the ground. A man strode hastily from the thicket with a smoking gun in his left hand. The beech tree knew him well. The huntsman bent over the murdered man. "It is all over with him," he said, and taking his gun he vanished into the bushes.

The bright sun rose and shone upon a still form with set white face. Sorrowfully the tree bent over and wept bitter tears, and the little robins flew up and covered the dead face and staring eyes with leaves and twigs. In the afternoon some woodcutters came that way and found the body.

"He has been shot while poaching," they said, and taking him gently up they bore him to the distant valley. An old man lingered by the tree. He drew his knife and carved a cross over the heart that Hans had made. Then he took off his hat and breathed a prayer. The leaves of the green crest rustled, for the tree prayed, too, in her own way.

For many summers on the anniversary of the death of the murdered man, the maiden came to the seat, knelt down and wept and prayed, and every time she was paler, more fragile. One day she did not come, and the tree murmured, "She is dead!" and so it was.

Years passed. The beech had become a mighty tree. Her bark was covered with brown moss. The wild vines clustered about her trunk, and heart and cross were both nearly covered. A man came one day and made a third mark on the bark, and the tree knew her time had come. She bore the sign of her destruction—she must soon fall. Farewell, thou green and sunny forest! She had not long to wait for the woodmen, who came, and with cruel axes cut into her very life.

A gloomy, glowering man in hunter's dress, with long gray hair and beard, directed their movements. The beech knew him right well, and he appeared to recognize the tree. He came close to her and tearing away both moss and vine he saw that heart and cross were safe. "Here it was," he muttered, and horror shook his very frame. "Back, Herr Forester! Back!" cried the men. "The tree is falling!"

The warned man stepped back, but it was too late. With a deafening crash the beech fell to the ground and buried the forester under her corpse. When they picked him up, he was dead. The beech had crushed his head. And the men stood in a circle roundabout and prayed for his soul.—From the German.

Mrs. J. P. Bell, Ossawatomie, Kan., wife of the editor of The Graphic, the leading local paper of Miami county, writes "I was troubled with heart disease for six years, severe palpitations, shortness of breath, together with such extreme nervousness, that, at times I would walk the floor nearly all night. We consulted the best medical talent. They said there was no help for me, that I had organic disease of the heart for which there was no remedy. I had read your advertisement in The Graphic and a year ago, as a last resort tried one bottle of Dr. Miles' New Cure for the Heart, which convinced me that there was true merit in it. I took three bottles each of the Heart Cure and Restorative Nervine and It completely cured me. I sleep well at night, my heart beats regularly and I have no more smothering spells. I wish to say to all who are suffering as I did, there's relief untold for them if they will only give your remedies just one trial."

Dr. Miles Heart Cure is sold on a positive guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. All druggists sell it at $1, 6 bottles for $5, or it will be sent prepaid on receipt of price by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

He came close to her and tearing away both moss and vine he saw that heart and cross were safe. "Here it was," he muttered, and horror shook his very frame. "Back, Herr Forester! Back!" cried the men. "The tree is falling!"

The warned man stepped back, but it was too late. With a deafening crash the beech fell to the ground and buried the forester under her corpse. When they picked him up, he was dead. The beech had crushed his head. And the men stood in a circle roundabout and prayed for his soul.—From the German.

DON'T STOP TOBACCO

It is Injurious To Stop Suddenly

And don't be imposed upon by buying a remedy that requires you to do so, as it is nothing more than a substitute. In the sudden stoppage of the use of tobacco you must have some stimulant, and in most all cases, the effect of the stimulant, be it opium, morphine, or other opiates, leaves a far worse habit contracted. Ask your druggist about "BACO-CURO." It is purely vegetable. You do not have to stop using tobacco with "BACO-CURO." It will notify you when to stop and your desire for tobacco will cease. Your system will be as free from nicotine as the day before you took your first chew or smoke. An ironclad written guarantee to a solutely cure the tobacco habit in all its forms, or money refunded.

Dear Sirs—I have been a tobacco fiend for many years, and during the past two years have smoked fifteen to twenty cigars regularly every day. My whole nervous system became affected, until my physician told me I must give up the use of tobacco for the time being at least. I tried the so-called Keeley Cure, "No-To-Bac," and various other remedies, but without success, until I accidently learned of your 'Baco-Curo.' Three weeks ago to-day I commenced using your preparation, and to-day I consider myself completely cured. I am in perfect health, and the horrible craving for tobacco, which every inveterate smoker fully appreciates, has completely left me. I consider your 'Baco-Curo' simply wonderful and can fully recommend it.
Yours very truly, C. W. HORNICK.

Dear Sirs—I have been a tobacco fiend for thirty-three year and during the past two years have used chewing tobacco very extensively. My nervous system being affected considerable I have often tried to give up the use of tobacco but always failed until I bought three boxes of your 'Baco-Curo.' I used tobacco at the same time while taking "Baco-Curo," and after a week I lost the appetite for tobacco—smoking or chewing. I am enjoying better health and consider your "Baco Curo" the safest most harmless and reliable remedy for to break the tobacco habit.
Yours truly, JOHN RODDEN,

Gentlemen—Last summer I furnished Mr James Reid of the town of Burnside Trempealeau Co., with three boxes of your "Baco-Curo." He had chewed tobacco for over forty years and the last year used over sixty-five pounds. He commenced using "Baco-Curo" and one box did not have the effect, when he had used about one-half of the second box, he began to lose his taste for tobacco, and when he had used one-half of the third box he had lost all his appetite for it, and is now entirely cured.
Yours truly, J C TAYLOR, Druggist.

Gentlemen—For forty years I used tobacco in all its forms. For twenty-five years of that time I was a great sufferer from general debility and heart disease. For fifteen years I tried to quit, but couldn't. I took various remedies, among others 'No-To-Bac," "The Indian Tobacco Antidote," 'Double Chloride of Gold," etc., etc., but none of them did me the least bit of good. Finally, however, I purchased a box of your "Baco-Curo" and it has entirely cured me of the habit in all its forms, and I have increased thirty pounds in weight and am relieved from all the numerous aches and pains of body and mind. I could write a quire of paper upon my changed feelings and condition.
Yours respectfully, P B MARBURY,

WHAT MR. KRAEMER SAYS OF "BACO-CURO."

ATLANTIC, Iowa, Feb 4, 1895.
This is to certify that I, F D Kraemer, of Atlantic, Iowa, was an inveterate smoker of cigarettes for more than two years.
About eight weeks ago I bought three boxes of "Baco-Curo." I began taking it according to directions, and after taking one and one-half boxes, all the desire for cigarettes left me, and I have had no desire since.
I can heartily recommend "Baco-Curo" to all who are slaves to the cigarette habit or tobacco habit in any form, and are in search of a cure. I had become so under the influence of cigarettes, I could not remember anything, could not study, unless under the influence of the drug, which is death in the end if kept up.
Cigarettes are sapping the lives out of more boys and young men to-day, than anything that is known to the world. Boys, before it is too late get some of this remedy that killed the craving for cigarettes in me and save your young life. Restore yourself to manhood. You will feel as though you had escaped an awful doom, and you have, when cured by "Baco-Curo," for you feel like a new being.
I never felt better in all my life than at this present writing. I did not know what was the matter with me, until informed by the agent. He told me what was the reason I could not do anything unless under the influence of the death-dealing poison found in cigarettes. I did not believe him at first, until he explained the action on the system. Then, though the goods and thank God and all concerned, I am a sound person to-day. Hoping that this may reach the unfortunate cigarette smoker, I remain, Yours respectfully,
F D. KRAEMER.

FORTY YEARS AFTER.

We climbed to the top of Goat Point hill,
Sweet Kitty, my sweetheart, and I,
And watched the moon make stars on the waves
And the dim white ships go by,
While a throne we made on a rough stone wall,
And the king and the queen were we,
And I sat with my arm about Kitty
And she with her arm about me.

The water was mad in the moonlight,
And the sand like gold where it shone,
And our hearts kept time to its music
As we sat on that throne alone.
And Kitty's deep eyes twinkled brightly,
And Kitty's brown hair blew so free
While I sat with my arm about Kitty
And she with her arm about me.

Last night we drove in our carriage
To the wall at the top of the hill,
And though we're forty years older
We're children and sweethearts still.
And we talked again of that moonlight
That danced so mad on the sea
When I sat with my arm about Kitty
And she with her arm about me.

The throne on the wall was still standing,
But we sat in the carriage last night,
For a wall is too high for old people
Whose foreheads have linings of white.
And Kitty's waist measure is forty,
While mine is full fifty and three,
So I can't get my arm about Kitty
Nor can she get both her's about me.
—H. H. Porter in Life.

It Worked.

"I beg your pardon, madam, but I have not asked you to buy any of my tablecloths as yet," said the peddler in tones of humbleness as the housewife paused to catch her breath.

"Then what did you stop here for, you"—

"Why, I was constrained by a sense of respect which I bear for all humanity to stop and offer my wares to you. If you will hear me just a moment, I shall make my unenviable position clear to you. You know the lady over by the creek—the one in the white house with the green shutters yonder"

"Of course I know her, the old gossipmonger"—

"Now just hold on till I tell you how the thing stands"

"Has she been lying to you about me?"

"Well, I care say that she said nothing about you that any honestminded person would believe. It was simply"—

"What did she say? Tell me what she said. Oh, I'd like to"—

"Well, she simply said that you didn't use tablecloths, and she wanted to bet me a week's board that I couldn't sell you one."

"What's that? Is that what she said? She said I didn't use them, eh? Oh, the hussy!"

"Now, it's not that I care anything about it," explained the peddler as he opened the pack, "yet I know decent and well bred people when I see them, and I was determined, although it has thrown me somewhat out of my way, to see for myself."

The housewife gritted her teeth in silence and took her purse from her pocket.

"Now these are so a pair," continued the peddler in kindly tones. "Or you may have the entire 20 pairs, all I have left, for $75."

As he passed, empty handed, out of the garden gate a moment later he saw over his shoulder the form of a woman standing on the porch. She was mute and livid, and her eyes were cast at the house with the green shutters.—New York World.

The sexton, a short, bony individual, tiptoed to the church door and looked anxiously up and down the street. There was no one in sight, except an innocent, harmless ragged tramp. The sexton looked at him a moment and hesitated. Finally he went forward doubtfully and touched Weary Walker on the shoulder.

"I beg your pardon," he said timidly, "but would you mind coming inside for a few minutes? The minister wants to say 'My dear brethren' and there's only me in the church.'—Boston Budget.

...OF EDUCATION.

The Free Christian Meeting House Leased for School Purposes—Terms of the Lease—A Teacher Transferred to the Academy—A Coal Dealer's Proposition.

A special meeting of the Board of Education was held last evening, present Messrs. Wiggins, Harding, Hanford, Galloway, Corwin, Swain, Powelson and Dayton.

The committee on additional school accommodations made a report and submitted a proposition from C. M. Winchester, Secretary of the Board of Trustees of the Free Christian Church, in which that body offered to lease its meeting house for school purposes at an annual rental of $1,200.

The terms of the proposition are as follows:

The Trustees to reserve the use of the lecture room, together with the ante-rooms and approaches to the same, but grant the use of the same for recitation purposes on any and all school days. Permission will be given to use the furniture and to hang temporary blackboards which, however, are to be removed at the close of each afternoon's school session.

The Board of Education must pay all expenses of repairs and improvements necessary for its convenience, the trustees to pass on all such work before it is done. The Board to provide a janitor to keep the building in a proper condition of cleanliness each day. The lease to run for one year, from August 1st., with privilege of renewal for one or two years.

The trustees offer to sell the building for $15,000 at any time during the continuance of the lease.

Upon motion the committee was authorized to make and execute a lease with the Board of Trustees upon the above terms.

Upon the recommendation of the Academy Committee Miss Bernetta L. Budd was appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss Edith Brill at a salary of $500 per year.

The salary of Miss H. Grace Sinsabaugh, of the Bennett Hill school, was increased to $375 per year.

The Bennett Hill Committee was authorized to fill the vacancy caused by the transfer of Miss Budd to the Academy.

Mr. H. S. Pound, of the firm of Pound & Thorn, submitted a proposition to supply coal for the schools as follows:

Egg coal, delivered, $4 25 gross ton.
Stove coal, delivered, $4 45 gross ton.
Chestnut coal, deliv., $4 45 gross ton.

No action was taken on the proposition and the meeting adjourned.

...RAINY NIGHT AT THE CIRCUS.

...er Under the Canvass than Out of ...—A Rush for Home—Saved Her ... Slippers.

...here was a large crowd at the circus last night, and an excellent performance was given. When the rain came on the canvas was practically a protection, in fact, some people thought it rained harder under the tent than out of doors. There was a stampede for home, but of course the wagons that had been put the grounds earlier in the evening had disappeared and people had to wait to the end of the car line and by that time were thoroughly drenched. A good many people who had umbrellas remained, however, until the close of the performance.

One young gentleman, who heard a pretty girl say she "would not care for the rain if it wasn't for her white kid shoes," told her she ought not to wear white shoes to a circus, but gallantly picked the lady up in his arms and carried her to the barn near the entrance to the grounds, where they met the young lady's father, who had come after her in a carriage, and she was placed in the vehicle without having soiled her white shoes in the least.

The lady resides in a neighboring city and was a total stranger to the young man. We are not sure that experience may be the means of ... other white-slipper-wearers in Middletown.

UNIVERSALIST SERVICES.

To Be Held Regularly on Sundays Hereafter.

For the past year or two Universalist church services have been held in this city, usually on week days, but very considerable interest has been manifested and the size of the congregations has gradually increased until it is now thought there are enough of those having a preference for that faith in the city to justify the holding of regular services, and hereafter instead of an occasional sermon on week day evenings there will be regular Sunday services.

The indications point very strongly toward the establishment of a Universalist church in this city.

Nine Months In Bed, Cured In Twenty Four Hours.

T. J. Blackmore, of Haller & Blackmore, Pittsburgh, Pa., says: "A short time since I procured a bottle of "MYSTIC CURE." It got me out of the house in twenty-four hours. I took to my bed with Rheumatism nine months ago and the "MYSTIC CURE" is the only medicine that did me any good. I had five of the best physicians in the city, but I received very little relief from them. I know the "MYSTIC CURE." to be what it is represented and take pleasure in recommending it to other poor sufferers." Sold by J. E. Mills, druggist, Middletown, N. Y.

A LEOPARD ESCAPES.

IT SHINS UP A TROLLEY POLE AND GETS SHOCKED.

Also Takes a Bite Out of a Horse, Glares at Golf Players, Is Pursued by a Boarhound and Finally Gets Caught by a Noted Trapper.

A tame leopard employed by the Barnum show at Bridgeport relapsed into savagery the other night and got away from the winter quarters. A big boarhound went in pursuit and after some difficulty found the leopard hiding in a golf field.

Not being hungry, having just eaten a sheep, the wild beast was running around a big bowlder to get up an appetite for one of the golf players, who were entirely unconscious of the approach of any other mealtime than their own.

The leopard was tame once and at the beginning of the season used to jump over a stick in the street parades of the circus. One day she bit a piece out of a clown and was sent to Bridgeport to be further tamed by Barney Duke, the professional terror of the animal kingdom.

She lived in a building which is being torn down to make room for a new elephantarium, as Mr. Bailey calls it. The workmen, who didn't know there was a leopard on the other side of the wall, tore out enough bricks from the back of her cage to let her escape. She waited until nightfall and then got out.

In another part of the leopard house is a white eyed horse used for ring purposes and now here under treatment for insanity. The animal received an injury on the head which necessitates the operation of trephining before she can recover her reason. In the same building is the boxing boarhound Irene, who had been left behind to nurse her puppies. She used to perform in a den with the lions, tigers and leopards.

When Mr. Duke went to feed the white eyed horse this morning, he found her bitten and scratched. He thought at first she had attempted suicide in a fit of insanity, but when he missed the leopard he knew that the creature had got out and begun to eat his crazy patient.

Duke says the leopard probably didn't like the taste of the horse and went to look for something better. According to his statement, he has known escaped wild beasts to sample a dozen animals before they found something to suit. One of the lions got out last spring and bit small pieces out of a zebra, a camel and a bear, but, finding none of them fit to eat, went and devoured an ostrich.

The lion tamer resolved to go leopard hunting. He took a gun and the big boarhound Irene with him. Her five pups sniffed at the horse's blood, wagged their little tails and followed. Duke showed the boarhound the empty cage and gave her to understand she must take up the scent.

Irene put her nose to the ground and then bounded over the fence in full cry toward Mountain Grove cemetery, her five pups running along in single file on their first leopard hunt. She went over the dam at Moody's pond, where all the pups fell in and had to be fished out. Behind Holland's heights the first tracks were found.

"And I'm blamed if that leopard didn't walk backward, so as to fool me," said the keeper. "I suppose she didn't think I'd run her down by scent." On Miles Bathwell's farm was found a dead sheep. Its jugular vein had been torn open, and most of its blood was gone. Here the dog was for awhile confused, but soon she took up the trail again. It led her to the Brooklawn Country club, where several players in scarlet coats were striking attitudes and balls. Behind the bowlder, waiting impatiently for an appetite, was the leopard. When she saw the dog, she gave a hiss and ran toward Henry Setzer's park. The golf players ran the other way.

The leopard, being closely pursued, ran half a mile and then shinned up a trolley pole. When she got to the top, she touched a live wire and fell to the ground unconscious. The boarhound and her pups sprang upon her and were beaten off with difficulty by the keeper. Duke tied a rope around the leopard's neck, and when she recovered her senses the procession to town began. The boarhound led, the leopard, with her tail between her legs, came next, and Duke and the five pups brought up the rear. A second division consisted of a crowd of golf players, men, women and babies and a policeman in plain clothes.—New York World.

Great Mortgages In New York.

A mortgage for $1,800,000 made in favor of one of the insurance companies and secured by property on lower Broadway illustrates the manner in which capital is being obtained for the erection of the skyscraping buildings, so many of which are going up in this city just now. Some of them have been erected by insurance and banking companies who have invested their own money, but nearly all of those which have been put up by private individuals or other than financial corporations represent great capital borrowed from the insurance companies. It may be almost said that the insurance companies of New York own the majority of these great buildings, with the exception of the Equitable. The Tract society, which has just put up the highest building in the city, borrowed $1,000,000 from one of the insurance companies. Mr. Havemeyer has just borrowed nearly $2,000,000 for investment in what is probably to be the highest business structure in New York city.—Holland in Philadelphia Press.

Mrs. Laura C. Phoenix, Milwaukee, Wis.

"Matron of a Benevolent Home and knowing the good Dr. Miles' Nervine has done me, my wish to help others, overcomes my dislike for the publicity, this letter may give me. In Nov. and Dec., 1893, The inmates had the "LaGrippe," and I was one of the first. Resuming duty too soon, with the care of so many sick, I did not regain my health, and in a month I became so debilitated and nervous from sleeplessness and the drafts made on my vitality, that it was a question if I could go on. A dear friend advised me to try Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. I took 2 bottles and am happy to say, I am in better health than ever. I still continue its occasional use, as a nerve food, as my work is very trying. A letter addressed to Milwaukee, Wis., will reach me." June 6, 1894. MRS. LAURA C. PHOENIX.

Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold on a positive guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. All druggists sell it at $1, 6 bottles for $5, or it will be sent, prepaid, on receipt of price by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

J. ERSKINE MILLS,

GREAT COLLEGE YEAR.

Thousands of Young Men Called to Enter Active Life.

Harvard graduated 678 young men this year. Yale gave diplomas to 575 seniors. From the colleges generally throughout the country the reports show that large graduating classes are the rule of the season.

The expense of going to college in this country is not so high, even at the leading colleges, as to make a liberal education the exclusive privilege of rich men's sons, as it is in European countries and to a very marked degree in England. It is true that the Harvard or Yale student with a wealthy and indulgent papa in the background can easily spend from $3,000 to $5,000 a year for incidental expenses, and that many of such spoiled children of fortune have done so. The fact remains that the young man who must pay his own bills, with such assistance as parents of slender means can give him, can take a four years' term at Harvard or Yale at an expense not exceeding $600 a year.

A leading professor at Harvard has been quoted as saying that every dollar over $1,000 per year spent by a Harvard student is a dollar of folly or of danger. As a matter of fact, many students with scant resources have managed to pull through a course at Cambridge or New Haven on $400 a year, and instances are not rare in which they have entered upon their course with barely enough money to pay their entrance fees and have contrived to earn enough between times to carry themselves through on that arduous and self denying basis. The state universities are doing a noble work in keeping the fountains of higher education in this country free from the corrupting domination of wealth. They are generally well endowed, especially so in the western states, and they furnish the very highest standards of education for a next to nominal cost. The University of Vermont, for instance, makes it possible for a student to receive all its advantages, including good board and quarters, at a yearly cost not exceeding $300 per year.

The annually increasing roll of college graduates is the grand guarantee that the door of opportunity is being kept wide open for American youth, whether they be of rich or poor parentage. There is no position in this country to which a man may not rise on his own merits, plus a liberal education. Hence the thousands of graduates who are now being sent out from American colleges are the proofs and the pledges that our civilization is still soundly democratic in the vital matter of offering an approximate equality of advantages and opportunities to its citizens. —New York Recorder.

GOOD ADVICE.

Somewhat Hackneyed, but Will Bear Repeating to Young Men.

There is a great deal of sound sense and philosophy in Bishop Doane's closing words to the graduates of Union college. "To make the most of one's self, and not to be some one else," said the eloquent prelate, "should be the desire of every man, and to be excellent in anything, to plant a garden well, to breed good horses or to manufacture honest fabrics is to fill out one's place in life as really and valuably as to be poet, lawyer, doctor, statesman, editor or priest." This is a graceful elaboration of the homely saying that a good blacksmith is often spoiled to make a poor minister.

One of the chief causes of the many failures in life is young men's neglect of the most important of all studies—namely, themselves, their aptitudes, their limitations and their opportunities. There is no lack of talent in this world, but the difficulty is it is frequently misapplied and misdirected. A young man conceives an ambition to shine at the bar or in politics, and without asking whether he is fitted for the role, misled by the old half true and half false adage that labor conquers all things, he devotes his energies in that direction, only to find when it is too late that he has wasted his best years. One of the highest services that can be performed for young men is to teach them that all legitimate labor is honorable and to impress upon them the vital importance of the axiom, "Know thyself."—New York Advertiser.

The Home Children's Fourth of July.

A pleasing incident of yesterday was the outing given the Children's Home children by Mr. J. J. Burckle. A special trolley car, gaily decorated, took them to Goshen and all about town. A bugler enlivened the trip, and the shouts, laughter and cheers of the children showed how thoroughly they enjoyed themselves The trip ended at noon, and in the afternoon an entertainment was given at the Home by Miss Florence Madden and others.

Fourth of July Crowd at Midway Park

The electric road carried about 9,000 passengers, yesterday, most of them to Midway Park, notwithstanding the heavy rain which fell during the afternoon and evening. There was a fine display of fireworks at the Park in the evening, but only half of the quantity provided for the occasion was used. The balance will be burned next Tuesday evening, when a band concert will be given.

Putting in New Crossing.

A new cut rail crossing is being placed in position at the North street crassing of the Erie, to-day. The work is being done by the Middletown-Goshen Traction Company and the Erie officials. The new crossing will do away with the heavy jolting to the electric cars, and will be much safer than the old one. The expense will be about $1,100, the iron work alone costing $951.

TROLLEY CARS IN COLLISION.

Very Serious Accident on the Goshen Line. Yesterday—Cars Come Together Head to Head in the Glen—Four Persons Severely and Many slightly Injured—Signals Did Not Work Properly—The Injured All Doing Well.

A head to head collision, resulting in serious injuries to four persons and in slighter injuries to many others occurred on the Goshen line of the Traction Company at 12:30 o'clock, yesterday afternoon, on the curve just below the Mechanictown station.

Car No. 2, George Moran, motorman, W. W. Tuthill, conductor, was on its way east loaded to its fullest capacity with pleasure seekers bound for Midway Park and the Goshen races. All the seats and most of the standing room in the car were occupied and many were standing on the platform and footboards. At the Mechanictown switch the signal was against the car and, after waiting several minutes, Conductor Tuthill tried the signal and found it would not remain in place, dropping as often as lifted. Assuming that, as sometimes happens in wet weather, the signal was out of order, he told the motorman to go on, but to run carefully and keep his eyes open for an up car.

On the curve, a few hundred feet below the station, car 21, John Young, motorman, Thomas Tierney, conductor, was seen coming up the track only a few rods away. Both motormen applied their brakes and turned their reverse levers. The up car, favored by the grade, was brought almost to a standstill. The heavily loaded car slid along on the rails, made slippery by the light rain that had fallen, and, though its speed was very materially checked, it crashed into the other car with no little force

When it was seen that a collision was inevitable some of the passengers on the down car jumped, and in most cases fared worse than those who remained on the car.

The floor of the up car, No. 21, is about four inches higher than that of Car No. 2, and when the collision occurred the front platform of No. 21 mounted that of No. 2, bending back the dashboard and forcing back the controller several inches against the left foot of Motorman Moran, bruising it very badly, although no bones were broken.

Harry Ketcham, fourteen years old, of 13 Grand street, who was on the front platform, had both bones of his leg broken.

Clifford Dolson, of Academy avenue, had the back of one of his hands quite badly cut by a piece of broken glass.

Harry Crist, son of Moses Crist, of Academy avenue, jumped from the car and was badly bruised about the back and legs.

Richard Carson, of Benjamin street, jumped from the car, and in falling is supposed to have struck his arm against the sharp point of a sapling stump, for a very ugly-punctured wound was made in his forearm, the bone of which was also broken.

Many other passengers were slightly bruised and scratched, but in no case are their injuries at all serious

Mrs. McClure, the mother of the Ketcham boy, was on the car when the collision occurred, and when she saw that her son was injured she fainted.

As soon as possible the injured were placed on the car and brought back to this city. Mrs. McClure insisted on her boy being taken home at once, and the car was run to Grant street and the injured taken to Mrs McClure's residence, which was converted into a temporary hospital, and where the wounds of Motorman Moran and Mr. Carson were dressed. The ambulance was then summoned and Mr. Moran taken to the hospital and Mr Carson to his home.

Many wildly exaggerated stories were afloat, yesterday and this morning, to the effect that one or more of the injured had died, and that amputation of Motorman Moran's foot had been necessary. Inquiry, this morning, shows that all the injured are doing as well as can be expected. No bones are broken in Mr. Moran's foot, though it is badly bruised. Mr. Carson's injury seems to be the most serious, and he passed a very uncomfortable night.

It was reported, this morning, that a baby's arm was broken in the collision, but no report of such a casuality has been made to the Traction Company and diligent inquiry fails to trace the rumor to any responsible source.

Fifty Years Old and Loves a Boy o Fifteen.

Mrs. Julia Weiss, fifty years old, was arrested in Paterson, yesterday, for writing love letters to fifteen-year-old Charlie Wirtz. The complaint was made by the boy's father. The woman said she loved the boy and supposed she had a right to give expression to her feelings. She promised to write no more letters and was discharged.

INCIDENTS AND HAPPENINGS IN GOSHEN.

In Town for the Fourth—The Day We Celebrated—St John's Festival—Goshen Hall Players Beaten—Won a Foot Race—Sunday Excursion Tickets—A Good Word for the Trolley.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

—Among those who spent the Fourth visiting in this village were: Mr. Geo. Ray and family, of Newburgh; Miss Lillian Miller, of Warwick; Miss Conklin, of Washingtonville; Mrs. L. B Hunt, of Middletown; Mr. Chas. T. Jackson, of East Orange, N. J; Mr. H. D. Mills, of Waldwick, N. J.; Messrs. Wm. Hoffman, George Grier, Ed. Reeves, Ed. Redfield, Gus Mapes, Mrs. Conklin and Mr. and Mrs. Robinson, all of New York city.

—Fourth of July was gloriously celebrated in this village. Firecrackers, cannons and pistols were heard all day and at night the fireworks at several places attracted large crowds.

—Howard White, son of Rev. S. F. White, who fell from a trap car, last Saturday, and broke his collar bone, is improving nicely.

—All those who attended the annual festival at St. John's Hall, last evening, report having had a good time. Dancing was the principal feature of the evening. Parkin's orchestra furnished good music.

—Communion services will be held at the Methodist Church, Sunday.

—The base ball team organized by the Goshen Social and Athletic Association met its first defeat at Florida, yesterday, The score was 20 to 7.

—Mr. N. J. Dikeman won the 200 yard foot race at Florida, yesterday, defeating Henry Haight and a young man from Florida.

—Commencing next Sunday the Erie will sell excursion tickets to New York and return from this station, good for that day only fo $1 50.

—Since the Middletown-Goshen Traction Co. laid its tracks to this village and from the day it commenced to operate its cars it has not only given work to Goshen people but has been a great accommodation to the traveling public. Before the trolley line was ex ended to Goshen it was an impossibility to go to Middletown and return for twenty cents, even though the traveler on the Erie Railroad had a thousand mile book, for then it cost twenty-eight cents, and. he could not go every half hour. Fifty cents was the regular fare. But one of the principal benefits the trolley affords is the opportunity to visit Midway Park and return for ten cents (if you are the possessor of a book, eight cents). This place was the cause of considerable comment from many as they predicted a "beer garden" would be established there. To be sure a license has just been granted to sell liquor adjoining the Park, but the "beer garden" in Midway proper has failed to materalize. On the contrary, religious services have been held there with success. Goshen merchants have not been compelled to make assignments on account of the trade going to Middletown, for there have only been two assignments made that the writer can recall since the road has been in operation and these doubtless would have occurred trolley or no trolley. Of course there are objections to the trolley road, such as accidents, etc. but the company's employees have used extraordinary precaution in this respect, so that only one accident of a serious nature has occurred here, and that did not prove fatal. It cannot be denied that the trolley road is a great accommodation to Goshen people as well as a great benefit to all who desire to visit the great pleasure resort

THE RACES AT GOSHEN.

Good Sport on the Driving Park—Rain Prevents Finishing Two of the Three Races—A Dead Heat Trotted—Van Cott Wins the Free for All Easily.

From our Goshen Correspondent

Considering the drizzling rain which came down all yesterday afternoon, the attendance at the races was good, being nearly 1,000. The judges were L. J. Martin, of Newton, N. J., and George Grier, of Goshen, while W. W. Gibbs, of this village, acted as starter.

Six starters appeared in the first race for the 2 30 class, and five heats were trotted, one being a dead heat and the other four going to different horses. In the third heat of this race Hudson Boy made a great spurt when on the last 100 yards, and was only beaten out by Fitch Clark by a head. The fifth was a dead heat, Fitch Clark and Hudson Boy coming under the wire neck and neck.

The second race proved to be an easy victory for Van Cott, a bay gelding driven by J. McKeever, of Warwick, as he took three straight heats, Clarina and Springdale both being very unsteady.

Two he were trotted in class, Lena C., driven by P. Gu of Port Jervis, securing the firs Harry Madison the second.

The races were then postpone til this afternoon at 2 o'clock. lowing are the summaries:

How a Woman Works for Her Sex.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

Seated at her desk in the bureau of correspondence, this wonderful woman opens her letters from all parts of the world. A few extracts from their contents tell the story.—

FROM IOWA.

"I am in a very bad condition. My courses have stopped from catching cold, and the pain is fearful. I am all bloated up, and the pain in lower part of my body is terrible. My back and head ache all the time. What shall I do for it?" MISS L——, Des Moines.

FROM NEW JERSEY.

Mrs. Lizzie DeClute, 224 Grand Street, Jersey City, relates her miseries resulting from womb trouble, from which she was relieved and cured by the timely use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She ends her letter by saying, "I owe all to you."

FROM OHIO.

Mrs. Newton Cobb, of Manchester, O., writes: "I used eight bottles of your Vegetable Compound, and I am happy to say it has cured me of painful menstruations and backache. My suffering every month was dreadful. The doctors gave me morphine to ease the pain; nothing to cure me. Oh, I want to tell every one what cured me! I wish every suffering woman would write and get your advice."

FROM ILLINOIS.

Miss Jennie ——, Chicago, states that she is twenty-two years of age; occupation, saleswoman in large dry goods store. Constant standing has brought on womb trouble, the symptoms of which she describes fully. She says: "Help me if you can. There are several girls I know who have written to Mrs. Pinkham, and been cured by her advice and medicine."

FROM PENN'S'LV'N'A.

Miss Mary Smylie, who resides at 2078 E. Susquehanna Avenue, Kensington, Phila., writes: "I am a working-girl, and must stand eleven hours every day. I have suffered terribly from painful menstruation and kidney trouble. At times my head was so dizzy I could hardly see. A friend recommended your Vegetable Compound. I am a different girl now: no more aches and pains. Oh, thank you, thank you!"

The above extracts from many hundred letters received daily by Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., go to show how easily ailing women can obtain advice and relief. Write to Mrs. Pinkham.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the most successful female medicine known to the world, can be obtained of any druggist in the land.

—News of our water works in brief: Excavation for standpipe completed; foundation of pump house on Ward street commenced; two carloads of pipe arrived and distributed along the various streets; work merrily progressing in general, while the disgruntled citizen views the spectacle to his intense mortification.

—The Montgomery Base Ball Club went to Bullville, Friday, and crossed bats with the home team. The game was a good one and at but one stage was the result a conundrum. The score was Montgomery 17, Bullville, 12. According to rule 14, section 3, the balls shall be furnished by the home team and the last ball in play becomes the property of the winning club. The Bullvilles, however, refused Montgomery the ball.

Death from sunstroke.

James Mosier, fifty-two years old and a veteran of the late war, died at his home near Livingston Manor, Tuesday, from the effects of sunstroke. He was recovering from an attack of bilious colic when, about ten days ago, he took a long walk in the hot sun. When he reached home he could not see and soon became unconscious, in which condition he remained until death relieved him.

I had been doctoring constantly with no relief. I bought one bottle of South American Nervine, which did me more good than any $50 worth of doctoring I ever did in my life. I would advise every weakly person to use this valuable and lovely medicine; a few bottles of it have cured me completely. I consider it the grandest medicine in the world." HANGED BY HIS SWEETHEART.

A Girl's Remarkable Confession in a Texas Court of Justice.

RAMISONA, Tex, July 5.—The mystery of the hanging of Albert Blackman was fully explained yesterday when his fiance, Miss Bessie Harris, made a full confession in court. She said that Blackman, who was a well to do young farmer, had been courting her for some time, in opposition to the wishes of her parents. Finding that they could not change her affection for Blackman by threats, they adopted a more certain method and commenced a systematic attack upon her jealous nature. They told her Blackman was simply making her ridiculous, and that he was engaged to another girl.

At her father's suggestion she requested of Blackman that he give her a test of his love by letting her hang him, promising to cut him down in time to save his life. Blackman was desperately in love with the girl, and he readily submitted to the test. On the night of the murder she took a long walk with him and lured him to a lonely spot, where her father was in hiding with a rope. Excusing herself for a moment she procured the rope, and, returning, placed it about Blackman's neck. She says he had little fear of the result, as he felt sure she did not have strength enough to pull him from the ground.

After the rope had been placed over the limb and drawn taut, her father appeared and he and the girl pulled Blackman from the ground and tied the rope. The poor fellow struggled terribly, and she would have cut him down, but her father mentioned the mythical other young woman, and her heart hardened to her lover, who was slowly strangled to death. After he was dead she and her father arranged the body and rope so that it would appear to have been a case of suicide.

Her confession caused a pronounced sensation, and there was talk of lynching the parents of the girl. This was averted by the promptness of the officials, who, immediately after her confession, placed them under arrest and spirited them away. The girl has also been arrested on a charge of murder.

An Insane Depositor.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 5.—Kate Welch, an inmate of the asylum of Reno, Nev., has $10,291 deposited in the Hibernia bank in this city, which has remained uncalled for for twenty-one years. In the meantime the bank officials have traced every woman of that name on the Pacific coast and several eastern states, only to find the real owner of the tiny fortune in a feeble old woman of shattered intellect, confined in a state institution. In the early days of the mining excitement of Nevada Kate Welch was a noted woman among the mining camps, and easily acquired the fortune now awaiting its proper claimants. A possible heir has also been found in a man named John Buckley, of St. Louis, who claims to be her son.

Revenue Officer Murdered and Robbed.

RALEIGH, July 5.—Revenue officials are notified that Joseph Journey, a revenue storekeeper and gauger in Clinton county, was robbed and murdered Tuesday night by unknown persons. He was found dead near his home. He had a considerable amount of money with him when he left the distillery, but not a dollar was found in his pockets. The revenue authorities are also notified that the warehouse of the registered whisky distillery of P. C. Saunders at Moratock was plundered and burned. Forty barrels of whiskey were stolen.

The new league is to be an eight club affair, among them being Lancaster, Wilmington and Camden, and Newark, Trenton or Jersey City. It is not yet known which of the Jersey clubs will be a member.

Alleged Postoffice Thieves Escape.

NEW YORK, July 5.—The three alleged postoffice thieves, Joseph Killoran, Charles Allen and Harry Russell, who are wanted at Springfield, Ills., escaped from Ludlow street jail yesterday. The prisoners were about to take their daily exercise in the yard of the jail. Keepers Edward Schneer and Charles Schoen were in the office of the jail, the former sitting with his back to the door and Schoen was walking about the room. The three men entered the office at the same time, and covered the officers with revolvers. Then they secured the keys, locked the officers in, and made good their escape.

The American Banquet in London.

LONDON, July 5.—Hon. Wayne MacVeagh, United States ambassador to Italy, presided at the banquet of the American society last night, in the absence of Ambassador Bayard. In introducing the Cornell Glee club, who have recently arrived in London, he said that they must not be confounded with the Cornell rowing crew, who will win next week's race at Henley. This remark was greeted with great applause. Responding to the toast of the evening, which was "The Day We Celebrate," Ambassador MacVeagh made an eloquent and patriotic speech.

Secretary Morton's Private Secretary.

WASHINGTON, July 5.—Secretary Morton has demonstrated his sympathy with civil service rules in the appointment of a private secretary. Mr Nordhouse entered the service as a stenographer in the division of ornothology and mammology in March, 1893, and has steadily been promoted to the position which he now occupies.

John Maxon's Lifeless Body Found in a Barn—Doubt as to the Cause of Death.

Correspondence ARGUS and MERCURY.

John Maxon, who resided near Roscoe, Sullivan county, was found dead in the barn of R. Cochran, Friday morning. The deceased had been celebrating a little too much on the day before, but it is not yet known whether that was the cause of his death or whether it is a case of suicide. Coroner Miller and a jury are investigating the case as I write.

FORECASTER WILLIS MOORE.

Secretary Morton Praises the New Chief of the Weather Bureau.

NEW YORK, July 6.—J. Sterling Morton secretary of agriculture, arrived in the city yesterday. The secretary took the chaffing about the weather good naturedly, and made no excuses for the first day's work of his new chief, Willis L. Moore, but claimed that the new man is the best forecaster of the weather bureau.

"We don't want scientific deductions," said the secretary. "We want forecasts. This new man won his promotion by a good record as a forecaster. He was brought up in the service from boyhood. He was chosen on the day that Howgate, a former chief, was sentenced to prison. Twenty years before, to a day, Willis Moore was confined in the guard house by order of Howgate for refusing to indorse some dishonest reports of the then chief. You might call it retributive justice.

"There has been a great deal of talk about politics in the appointment of Moore. I never asked his politics until after he was sworn. 'To tell the truth, Mr. Morton,' was his reply, 'I have always voted the Republican ticket.'

"He was chosen because he can forecast the weather. It is suggested that, now he is at the top, he can afford to give the other boys in the service the benefit of his secret, and he has promised to do so. The result will be that we will have more faithful weather forecasts than ever before in the history of the bureau."

Alleged Train Robbers Caught.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—Chief Postoffice Inspector Wheeler has been notified of the arrest at Riddles, Ore., of an ex-convict, John Case, charged with the recent train robbery of the Southern Pacific railroad. The man is positively identified by the train hands as the robber who went through the train. Two Poole boys, with whom Case has been living, have been arrested, and there appears to be a good case against them, though they claim that they can prove an alibi. Colonel Wheeler believes that the arrested men can be connected with the Roseburg-Kanath stage robbery.

Approved by Governor Hastings.

HARRISBURG, July 6.—Governor Hastings will today dispose of all the remaining measures left with him by the legislature. He got rid of a large number of important appropriation bills last night, many of which have been disapproved of because of the falling off in the state revenues. The appropriations to the University of Pennsylvania and the Western Pennsylvania university are approved on condition that 10 per cent. of the money shall be retained in the state treasury until June 1, 1897, and that the balance shall be paid out at the discretion of the state treasurer. The Keunedy school bills, which completely revolutionize the school systems of Pittsburg and Allegheny, are approved.

Heavy Rains in Kansas.

SALINA, Kan., July 6.—Rain fell in torrents here Thursday night, and as a result five washouts are reported west of here, this side of Ellis, and another near Manhattan. The west bound express was tied up here indefinitely. An unusually heavy rainfall is reported from all sections. At Beloit six inches fell. Atchison reports the rain of more value to crops, especially to corn, than any which has fallen for several years. Blue Rapids reports bad washouts at Shrayer and Florena, on the Union Pacific.

Fatally Shot by a Saloon Keeper.

EASTON, Pa., July 6.—Patrick and Henry Penders, brothers, of Wind Gap, this county, were shot and probably fatally wounded by Amandus Rice, proprietor of a hotel at Rosscommon, near this place. Rice had become angered by the taunts of a crowd of drunken men in his barroom, among whom were the Penders. Another brother, John Penders, was cut in the head with a beer glass by Rice.

His Life the Penalty.

CŒUR D'ALENE, Idaho, July 6.—Captain Paul Webb, the swimmer, lost his life near here in an attempt to ride down a 300 foot chute into Lake Cœur d'Alene in his barrel. The barrel left the chute and struck the ground. His spinal column was broken. His name was James Stewart, Captain Paul Webb being a fictitious name assumed for professional reasons.

Forger Moore Pleads Guilty.

NEW YORK, July 6.—Albert S. Moore, the president of the East River Silk company, was arraigned before Recorder Goff, in Part I of the court of general sessions, and pleaded guilty to the eight new indictments for forgery recently found against him. He was remanded until Tuesday, when he will be sentenced by Judge Fitzgerald.

Judge Wickham's Successor.

HARRISBURG, July 6.—Governor Hastings last night appointed Millard F. Mecklem, of Beaver, president judge of the Beaver county court, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Judge Wickham to accept a seat on the superior court bench.

An Exploding Boiler Kills Ten.

COLON, July 6.—The boiler of the electric works at Carthagena exploded yesterday, destroying three houses, killing ten persons and wounding eighteen others.

Kentucky's Populist Ticket.

LOUISVILLE, July 6.—After listening to the ladies, and debating the question at length, the woman's rights plank was overwhelmingly rejected by the Populists. A motion to indorse union made goods was unanimously adopted. The following ticket was nominated: For governor, Thomas S. Pettit; lieutenant governor, John J. Blair; treasurer, M. R. Gardiner; auditor, C. H. Dunn; register of land office, J. E. Quicksall; attorney general, S. M. Peyton; secretary of state, Don Singletary; superintendent of public instruction, H. H. Farmer; commissioner of agriculture, M. L. Scott.

A Light Verdict Against Cleary.

DUBLIN, July 6.—Michael Cleary, of Ballyvadlea, near Clonmel, was convicted of manslaughter yesterday for causing the death of his wife. The evidence showed that Mrs. Cleary was suffering from nervousness because her husband's brother had been murdered. The woman's father and several cousins were arrested for complicity in the crime. They fearfully tortured the woman, and forced noxious decoctions of herbs down her throat for the purpose of exercising an evil spirit. Finally the husband knocked her down and poured paraffine over her and set fire to her.

Deadly Cattle Disease in New Jersey.

BRIDGETON, N. J., July 6.—The disease which has been so fatal among cattle and horses in the vicinity of Newport has been reported to the state board of health, and an investigation was made by State Veterinary Surgeon Dr. T. R. Rogers and Veterinary Surgeon Dr. R. W. Hewitt, of this city. After careful inquiry and examination the disease was pronounced anthrax, a contagious blood disease usually very rapid and fatal. Active measures have been adopted, and it is not thought the disease will be communicated to other localities.

Thrown from a Wagon and Killed.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., July 6.—William Burns, a well known resident of Greece, was killed almost instantly about two o'clock in the morning. Burns, in company with a party of eleven young people, was returning from Grand Beach in a three-seated spring wagon, where they had been enjoying the Fourth. In endeavoring to pass another vehicle their wagon was upset, throwing the eleven people to the ground, injuring all of them more or less, and breaking Burns' neck.

THE PRESIDENT COMING TO MIDDLETOWN.

The Sick May Receive Medical Services Free of Charge.

The President and members of the European and American Staff of German, English, Irish, Scandinavian and American Doctors of New York city will be at the Russell House, Middletown, on one day only. The sick and afflicted may consult them without charge during their stay.

Tuesday, July 9th,

If you are incurable they will tell you; therefore invalids must not take offence if they are rejected, as no case will be accepted unless there is a moral certainty of a cure being effected. These Doctors are graduates of the best universities of Europe and America; they are of the highest standing in the medical profession and have had unlimited experience in the treatment of all Chronic Diseases and Deformities. As the latest methods, instruments and appliances of the various schools of both the Old and the New World are familiar to and at the command of this staff of doctors, it is reasonable to believe that in ninety cases out of every hundred a cure can be effected, even when the patients have been given up as incurable by doctors who have had less experience. Do not be discouraged because your doctor cannot give you relief, or even if he tells you that you cannot get well, for it matters not what your disease may be, you can consult the doctors free, and, if curable, they will treat you; if incurable, they will give you such advice as will tend to prolong life and afford you the greatest relief.

The doctor visits Middletown one day each month. Will be at 21 Broom street, Port Jervis, Wednesday, July 10th. Office hours from 10:30 a. m. to 5 p. m.

SATURDAY, JULY 6, 1895.

Great is the rejoicing in Kansas and Nebraska over the bounteous rains of the past few days. The corn crop is as good as made in both States. This is a national as well as a local blessing, for, depend upon it, there is no such efficacious antidote to the poison of Populism as a fat granary.

The New York Tribune says: "Two years ago every day brought dispatches about breaking banks and reduced wages. Now every day adds to the number of establishments which have voluntarily advanced wages." Thus the Tribune gives it away that the shadow of Democratic tariff was a scarecrow, while the substance of Democratic tariff proves a substantial and wide-spread blessing.

Five of the eight persons indicted at Trenton, N. J, for frauds on the State Government are Republicans. This unexpected result has dampened the ardor of the Republican investigators, who hoped to make party capital out of the exposure of corruption in the State Government, and it has been decided by the party leaders to call off the investigators. There are not many Republican votes to be made out of an investigation that hits five Republicans and three Democrats.

English yatchsmen are not satisfied with the performances of Valkyrie III. They think she is too "tender" and while wonderfully fast in light winds has not stability enough to stand up under a load of canvas in a stiff breeze. There is already talk of reducing her sail area. In view of all this there is much talk in English yachting circles of insisting that the Prince of Wales send over his fleet Britannia and make a try for the cup. It would be a strange turn of affairs, if, after all these years, the cup given by the Queen should be taken back to England by her son.

Reports received by Dun's Review from all commercial centres, which cover all the questions on which the future of business depends, are most favorable. The Review thus summarizes them:

They find cate distinctly better crop prospects than other official or commercial accounts, a marked increase in retail distribution of products, an active demand for goods, and a general enlargement of the working force, with some advance in the wages of more than half a million hands At the same time they show that the rapid advance in prices has somewhat checked buying of a few classes ofproducts. In every part of the country the outlook for fall trade is considered bright

The Wilson tariff has not 'ruined" the tin plate industry, that bantling of McKinleyism which we were told for months would have to be cosseted and coddled, bolstered and protected. The Metal Worker says that the tin plate industry was never so prosperous and never so extensive as now. Thirty-five mills which roll their own black plates are in active operation and several new mills are in process of erection, while there are thirty tin plate dipping works without rolling mills which are running to their fullest capacity. The estimated yearly output of these mills is 4,110,000 boxes of finished plates which will be increased to 5,500,000 boxes before the close of the year, nearly enough to supply the needs of the whole country.

The A. P. A. riot in East Boston, on the Fourth, was as absurd and illogical an outbreak as ever occurred in this or any other country. Back of it all was religious intolerance and religious bigotry and so, for the sake of religion, which it is safe to assume has no vital interest for any of the participants in the outbreak, men fought like fiends, and one poor wretch, whose large family ought to have concerned him more than A. P. Alsm, was sent to his last reward. Those who remember the Know Nothing movement of nearly half a century ago, or who are familiar with the rioting, bloodshed and bitterness that characterized that crusade of intolerance and fanaticism, see only evil in the aims and methods of the A. P. A., which while calling itself American is most un-American, and opposed to the principle of personal, civil and religious liberty, which is the basis of American institutions and makes this a free country.

Ex-President Harrison is reported to have said that he "almost wished he had his gun when he saw a woman riding a wheel and chewing gum." If women had the ballot Mr. Harrison would never have owned to his homicidal impulse, but would have been as non-commital in regard to bicycling and gum-chewing women as he is in regard to silver coinage.

Captain Howgate goes to prison for eight years. In this case justice not only moved with a leaden heel but struck with a ten ounce glove.—Elmira Gazette.

Too Much of Truth in It.

Said a man to the writer, to-day: "Do you see those fellows sitting on that hotel stoop watching those dagos working on that crossing? They are all poor men, and if you talk to them they'll tell you how hard the times are and that only dagos can get work, and yet, as a laboring man I will wager you a day's pay you can't get one of them to do a day's work in your garden or on your lawn."

Unfortunately there is too much truth in what this man said, as many Middletowners know.

THE ALASKAN MINES.

THE PRESENT GOLD BOOM QUITE AS ROMANTIC AS THAT OF 1849.

If It Were Possible to Reach the Fields Easily, It Would Be as Extensive, Too, For the Diggings Are of Incomparable Richness.

The world at large does not seem yet to have heard much about it, but there is quite as romantic if not so extensive a boom in gold mining now on in Alaska as there was in 1849 in California, and the extent of the boom is limited not by the richness and magnitude of the deposits of yellow metal, but by the means of reaching them.

Alaska is an enormous territory. It covers 570,000 square miles, being almost one-third as great as the United States, to which it belongs. It has a wonderful system of rivers, the largest of which, the Yukon, is 2,000 miles long, and empties into Bering sea one-third more water than is carried to the gulf of Mexico by the Mississippi. The Yukon has a delta 80 miles wide, with many mouths, only four of which have been explored, and it carries so much mud into the Bering sea that the waters of the latter are too shoal for ocean steamship navigation for the distance of 80 miles from shore.

It is near the head waters of this great river that Alaska's gold fields lie. Gold was first found there in 1860 by Hudson Bay company hunters, the first white men who ever ventured into the savage and unknown wilderness, crossing the mountains from Fort Mackenzie in the far Northwest Territory. It was not until 1872, however, that the country was prospected. Then one miner who ventured in reported finding coarse gold, but because of the dangers and hardships of crossing the mountains and rivers the trip was not again taken until 1880, when a party of 25 went in and found gold in many places. One year later the first paying diggings were opened, and in 1886 the remarkably rich Cassiar bar diggings were discovered. Every year since then more gold diggers have made their way to the Yukon fields, going in the spring and coming out in the autumn with the fruit of their labors. They found it impossible to winter there, for all supplies had to be packed from the diggings on their own backs over the mountains and then floated down the rivers on rafts or boats built on the spot for a distance of 800 miles. Sometimes the thermometer goes down to 80 below zero in the winter, and it is practically impossible to do any traveling in that region after September.

In 1892 a forward step was taken. Two Chicago men, P. D. and E. E. Weare, were told about the situation by Captain J. J. Healy, an old Montana miner who had spent ten years in Alaska. The Weares and John Cudahy, together with a number of other Chicago capitalists, then formed the North American Trading and Transportation company, and transported the timbers and machinery of a 320 ton steamer to St. Michael's island, 80 miles off the mouth of the Yukon. There the steamer was put together and launched in time to make a trip up the river with a cargo of supplies that same fall. Sixteen hundred miles from the river's mouth Fort Cudahy was built the following year; warehouses, a sawmill, a free reading room, a billiard hall and many fine cabins were also erected, and the new fort was made a general trading station.

Since that time the mining interests of Alaska have increased enormously, and this spring a genuine stampede to the Yukon fields has begun. Hundreds of miners will this year be at work there with pick and shovel. Owing to the dryness of the climate, what is known as hydraulic mining, which requires great quantities of water, cannot be employed. The Alaskan region, therefore, may properly be termed a poor man's paradise, for in placer mines, where the work has to be done with a pan or cradle, machinery can never take the place of muscle. Prospectors who go into the country in search of fortune outfit at Juneau in southeast Alaska, 2,000 miles southeast of the mouth of the Yukon. After 100 miles river navigation to the foot of the coast range the hardships of the journey begin. Everything must be packed over the mountains, 25 miles, to Lake Lindeman, a navigable body of water, tributary of the Yukon. There pole rafts are built, and an 800 mile trip of combined lake and river navigation alternating with heavy portages begins. Many boats and rafts are lost every year by venturesome crews who prefer shooting the rapids to packing their belongings around them.

The first and one of the oldest of the diggings reached by those who enter the country by this route is known as Stewart river. Seventy miles below this is Sixty Mile creek. Several lesser diggings are found along the river during the next 100 miles, when, at Forty Mile creek, Fort Cudahy is found. Other diggings are Poker, Davis, Glacier, Little Gold and Miller creeks, the last named being, until the Birch creek strikes of 1894, the richest diggings found. Gold amounting to $300,000 was taken out last year, and $37,000 was cleaned up from a single claim in a place only 30 by 100 feet in extent. Perhaps 125 men are employed in these claims, with wages at $10 a day, whisky $1 a glass, butter $1.50 a pound, potatoes $1 a pound and other things in proportion

Mrs. J. P. Bell, Ossawatomie, Kan. wife of the editor of The Graphic, the leading local paper of Miami county writes "I was troubled with heart disease for six years, severe palpitations, shortness of breath, together with such extreme nervousness, that, at times I would walk the floor nearly all night. We consulted the best medical talent. They said there was no help for me, that I had organic disease of the heart for which there was no remedy. I had read your advertisement in The Graphic and a year ago, as a last resort, tried one bottle of Dr. Miles' New Cure for the Heart, which convinced me that there was true merit in it. I took three bottles each of the Heart Cure and Restorative Nervine and It completely cured me. I sleep well at night, my heart beats regularly and I have no more smothering spells. I wish to say to all who are suffering as I did; there's relief untold for them if they will only give your remedies just one trial."

Dr. Miles Heart Cure is sold on a positive guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. All druggists sell it at $1, 6 bottles for $5, or it will be sent, prepaid, on receipt of price by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

DAUGHTERS OF CUBA.

Fair Exiles Organized to Assist the Patriot Armies.

The colony of Cuban exiles in New York city embraces a large number of patriotic women who wear the single starred flag of Cuba as a symbol of their allegiance to its cause. About 100 of these charming rebels have organized a club which they call the "Hijas de Cuba," or "Daughters of Cuba," for the purpose of giving encouragement and assistance to the patriot armies. The club has already sent several thousand dollars to the insurgents, and at a recent fair over $800 was taken in at the booths and tables, where dark eyed Cuban beauties smiled on the chivalrous public's generosity.

Among the more mature members of the Hijas de Cuba are some who have sorrowful memories of the revolution of 1868, widows and daughters of heroes who fell or whose fortunes were broken in that disastrous contest. The vice president and one of the leading spirits of the club is Mrs. V. Zayas-Bazan, the wife of an ardent sympathizer with the Cuban cause. Mrs. Bazan is young, strikingly beautiful and an acknowledged belle among the young matrons of the Cuban colony. She comes of a fine old Matanzas family—Garcia de Manesca—and her grandmother was known as "the richest woman in Matanzas" before the ruin of the last war.

Mrs. Bazan was sent to Paris to be educated and there was married. She is mistress of four languages—the French, German, Spanish and English—has contributed to the Paris journals on literary topics and has acquired much of the Frenchwoman's charm of manner and the mental brilliancy that is bred in the Paris salons. She has no memory of her native land, which she left as a little child, but the Cuban blood runs warm in her veins, and she plies the needle in these days of war on tiny silken flags with the single star of Cuba wrought thereon, to be worn by her patriot sisters.

The Search For a Synonym.

"Mother," said the emancipated woman's boy, "it isn't proper to say pants."

"Certainly not. There are many substitutes for the word that are far more elegant."

The boy played on with the dog in silence for awhile, and then, looking up into her face, said:

"Mother."

"What is it?"

"Don't you think it's dreadful?"

"What, dear?"

Pretty Well Worn Out.

A public school teacher in a New Jersey town was once asked where she intended to spend an approaching vacation.

She replied that it was such an effort to collect her things and pack her trunk that she was doubtful whether she should leave town. When surprise was expressed at this, she replied:

"Well, the truth is, I have strength enough to do either, but not both, of two things—I can get ready and not go, or I can go and not get ready"—Youth's Companion.

DON'T STOP TOBACCO

It is Injurious To Stop Suddenly

And don't be imposed upon by buying a remedy that requires you to do so, as it is nothing more than a substitute. In the sudden stoppage of the use of tobacco you must have some stimulant, and in most all cases, the effect of the stimulant, be it opium, morphine, or other opiates, leaves a far worse habit contracted. Ask your druggist about "BACO-CURO." It is purely vegetable. You do not have to stop using tobacco with "BACO-CURO." It will notify you when to stop and your desire for tobacco will cease. Your system will be as free from nicotine as the day before you took your first chew or smoke. An ironclad written guarantee to absolutely cure the tobacco habit in all its forms, or money refunded.

Dear Sirs—I have been a tobacco fiend for many years, and during the past two years have smoked fifteen to twenty cigars regularly every day. My whole nervous system became affected, until my physician told me I must give up the use of tobacco for the time being at least. I tried the so-called 'Keeley Cure,' "No-To-Bac," and various other remedies, but without success, until I accidentally learned of your "Baco-Curo." Three weeks ago to-day I commenced using your preparation, and to-day I consider myself completely cured; I am in perfect health, and the horrible craving for tobacco, which every inveterate smoker fully appreciates, has completely left me. I consider your 'Baco-Curo' simply wonderful, and can fully recommend it.

Yours very truly, C. W. HORNICK.

Dear Sirs—I have been a tobacco fiend for thirty-three years and during the past two years have used chewing tobacco very extensively. My nervous system being affected considerable. I have often tried to give up the use of tobacco, but always failed, until I bought three boxes of your "Baco-Curo." I used tobacco at the same time while taking "Baco-Curo," and after a week I lost the appetite for tobacco—smoking or chewing. I am enjoying better health, and consider your "Baco-Curo" the safest, most harmless and reliable remedy for to break the tobacco habit.

Dear Sirs—I have used chewing tobacco very extensively the past thirty years. I tried so-called "No-To-Bac" and other remedies, but without success, until I bought three boxes of your "Baco-Curo." Gentlemen—Last summer I furnished Mr James Reid, of the town of Burnside, Trempealeau Co., with three boxes of your "Baco-Curo." He had chewed tobacco for over forty years and the last year used over sixty-five pounds. He commenced using 'Baco-Curo" and one box did not have the effect, when he had used about one-half of the second box, he began to lose his taste for tobacco, and when he had used one-half of the third box he had lost all his appetite for it, and is now entirely cured.

Yours truly, J. C. TAYLOR, Druggist.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.

This is to certify that I, William S. Sawyer of Atlantic, County of Cass, State of Iowa, having been an inveterate smoker of tobacco, bought three boxes of "Baco-Curo" Dec. 21, 1894. Began taking same according to directions and can say that I am completely cured of the tobacco habit. "Baco-Curo" is simply wonderful and I recommend it to all who are slaves to the tobacco habit and wish to be cured. I am in perfect health and have not felt so well in years. That terrible craving, which every tobacco user has more or less, has completely disappeared and I feel like a new man. Hoping that this may do some one good and lead them to try this wonderful remedy, "Baco-Curo," I remain, Yours truly,

WM. S. SAWYER, Atlantic, Iowa.

Clayton, Nevada Co., Ark., Jan. 28, 1 95.

Eureka Chemical & Mfg. Co., La Crosse, Wis.

Gentlemen—For forty years I used tobacco in all its forms. For twenty-five years of that time I was a great sufferer from general debility and heart disease. For fifteen years I tried to quit, but couldn't. I took various remedies, among others "No-To-Bac," "The Indian Tobacco Antidote," "Double Chloride of Gold," etc., etc., but none of them did me the least bit of good. Finally, however, I purchased a box of your "Baco-Curo" and it has entirely cured me of the habit in all its forms, and I have increased thirty pounds in weight and am relieved from all the numerous aches and pains of body and mind. I could write a quire of paper upon my changed feelings and condition.

Yours respectfully, P. H. MARBURY,

WHAT MR. KRAEMER SAYS OF "BACO-CURO."

ATLANTIC, Iowa, Feb 4, 1895.

This is to certify that I, F. D. Kraemer, of Atlantic, Iowa, was an inveterate smoker of cigarettes for more than two years.

About eight weeks ago I bought three boxes of "Baco-Curo." I began taking it according to directions, and after taking one and one-half boxes, all the desire for cigarettes left me, and I have had no desire since.

I can heartily recommend "Baco-Curo" to all who are slaves to the cigarette habit or tobacco habit in any form, and are in search of a cure. I had become so under the influence of cigarettes, I could not remember anything; could not study, unless under the influence of the drug, which is death in the end, if kept up.

Cigarettes are sapping the lives out of more boys and young men to-day, than anything that is known to the world. Boys, before it is too late get some of this remedy that killed the craving for cigarettes in me and save your young life. Restore yourself to manhood. You will feel as though you had escaped an awful doom, and you have, when cured by "Baco-Curo," for you feel like a new being. I never felt better in all my life than at this present writing. I did not know what was the matter with me, until informed by the agent. He told me what was the reason I could not do anything unless under the influence of the death-dealing poison found in cigarettes. I did not believe him at first, until he explained the action on the system. Then I bought the goods and thank God and all concerned, I am a sound person to-day. Hoping that this may reach the unfortunate cigarette smoker, I remain, Yours respectfully,

F. D. KRAEMER.

IN FLYTIME.

B-z-z-z-z-zip!
Blest if there ain't a man in bed yet.
And it's nearly 5 o'clock,
Or else I am't the liveliest fly
In the block.
Oh!
I won't do a thing
To you!
Sleeping, are you?
B-z-z-z-z-z-dzungk!
Take that!
Why don't you wake up?
You will turn over,
Will you?
You just try to go to sleep again!
Z-z-z!
That was a corker!
Caught him right in the ear.
Say, you were going to swipe me, eh?
You think you're
Gosh awful smart, don't you?
You just wait!
I'll sit down on the bedpost for awhile
And he'll think I've quit,
And when he's just dozing off
Mebbe
I won't fool him.
There he goes—
B-z-z-z-swat! That's the stuff!
Oh, I'll teach you to use
Cuss words
Before a nice, gentlemanly fly!
Ain't you ashamed?
Mebbe it isn't your time to get up.
You're going to get up just the same
I say.
Say! S-s-s-z-z-z-zt
I'll be durned if he ain't
Going to sleep again!
O-o-h, I just won't
Do—a—thing
This time!
Just wait till I get
My vacuum producing
Pedal extremities
Against that ugly mug of yours
And clear my voice.
Now then!
B-z-z-z-z-z-z-z-z-z-z-z-
Z-Z Z!
Now will you get up?
Well, I guess yes.
That's better.
Just stop swearing and mosey
Out of those pyjamas.
That's right!
Why didn't you come to it without making a fuss?
I'll be round tomorrow at Four a. m.
And you want to behave better.
See?
What's that? You'll get fly paper?
Get it!
If you think this fly
Is chump enough to prefer fly paper
To a soft thing like you,
You're way off.
I'm on to my job, I am!
Ta ta!
Tomorrow at 4, remember.

His Trip.

He had carefully studied the English wheel papers, and from reading them had concluded that he would take a tour through America, feeling certain that he was fully acquainted with geography, topography, peculiarities and possibilities.

"I see by this week's issue of the cycle papers that you are going to take a wheel tour through the States," said a clubmate, as he met the intending invader of America at the club's headquarters in a suburban pub.

"Yas, I'm going to make a hurried ride through that country just to see what these Yankees really have, don't you know!"

"Have you got your route mapped out?"

"Yes, indeed. I've read our papers very carefully, and I have the whole thing all jotted down. I shall land in the city of New Hampshire and give the town a pretty thorough visit. Then I shall take a steamer and sail up the Georgia river to Denver and visit its famous university. From there I shall ride on my wheel to the great forests of Cincinnati and chase antelopes for a couple of weeks after the fashion of Yankee cyclers.

"After I have enough of this I shall hire a guide and make a thousand mile ride across the vast prairies of Rhode Island, endeavoring to kill an elephant or two on the way. By the time this is completed the summer will be well over, and I shall winter in Bar Harbor and study there American cycling among its most numerous representatives.

"In the spring I shall leave Bar Harbor, ride to the California river, down which I shall fish until Chicago is reached, at which point I shall take a steamer for home."

"Aren't you going to visit New York?"

"No. I hardly think I will ride as far as that."—Wheel.

All He Could Do.

"Mr. Lively," said the managing editor, "we'd like to have you draw something comic."

"Yes, sir."

"Without making reference to the new woman."

"Y yes, sir."

"Or the bicycle."

The artist turned away in silent dejection. In a few minutes he returned and laid a sheet of paper in the desk.

"Have you done it so soon?"

"It didn't take me long to do all I could under the circumstances."

"What is it?"

"I've drawn up my resignation."—Washington Star

"Yessum," said little Willy bravely. "I went in and saved little Charley Stebbins."

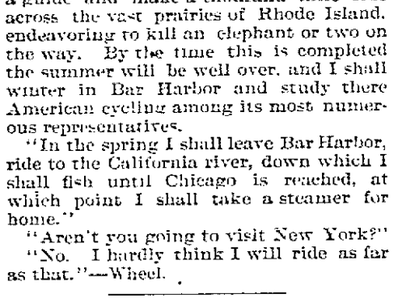
"My noble boy!" said his fond mother "Did you jump in after him?"

"No'm," said little Willy proudly, "I jumped in first, so as to be there when he fell in."—Boston Post.

The Mean Thing.

"Woman's intuition," says the corn fed philosopher, "is easily explained. When she guesses right, she talks about it for the next three or four weeks, and when she guesses wrong she talks so fast about something else that you forget she ever guessed."—Indianapolis Journal.

Pleasant.



What a charming surprise it is to a man who has looked to his bicycle for two hours' peace and liberty a day to come down on his birthday and find that his wife and his mother-in-law have taken lessons in secret and will henceforth go with him always and everywhere!—Punch.

THE NEW JAPAN.

It Is Mirrored In the National Exhibition at Kioto.

Kioto, aptly termed the heart of Japan, and the most interesting and fascinating city in the Mikado's domain, is now holding a national exposition. This year is called the "Heiansento Kinensai," and the fair commemorates the eleven hundredth anniversary of the establishment of the ancient capital at Kioto by the fiftieth emperor or kwannu. The quaint old city, always a beehive of industry, is now busier than ever, and from end to end is profusely decorated with banners and at night illuminated with colored lights. From the top of every house flies the "rising sun" flag, and on the front of each is a lantern.

While the exhibition as viewed by occidental eyes is not great or particularly extensive, it is full of interest and thoroughly representative of Japanese genius, handicraft and industry. The buildings are large, airy and clean, and the grounds well kept and admirably arranged. Though great crowds are here gathered, the utmost good order prevails. The price of admission is only 5 sen, about 5 cents of American money.

The exposition excels in fabrics, there being a very extensive display. One of the most interesting things is the creation of silk through the various stages, from the cocoon to the completed fabric. The embroideries, wonderfully rich, beautiful and artistic, are such as only the Japanese can produce. There is a splendid and attractive exhibit of ceramics, in which Japan leads the world. In the art department are seen some excellent paintings, many of them original, from the brushes of native artists.

ENTRANCE TO KIOTO EXHIBITION.

A department devoted to fish, fishing apparatus and boats is very complete, and attracts great attention.

The extensive cereal display shows Japan's wonderful agricultural resources and the fertility of her soil. The exhibit of agricultural implements, however, is crude, and to an American seems ridiculous. In machinery the display is also comparatively small, and there appears little that is new or suggestive. This department demoustrates the imitative faculty rather than inventive genius of the people, though there is in evidence a strong determination to achieve better things.

Outside the grounds are a number of war cycloramas, one representing the taking of Port Arthur.

Altogether the Kioto exposition faithfully depicts the "new Japan," and shows the marvelous advancement which has been made since the last national fair, 15 years ago.

A Lightning Freak.

Miss Fannie Moxie, living about five miles north of South Maid, Tex., while sitting at an organ during a thunderstorm, was struck by lightning and fell to the floor apparently lifeless. A Miss Guile was standing by her side with her hand on Miss Moxie's shoulder, but felt not the slightest shock. The bolt came through the ceiling, making a hole therein about the size of a 38 caliber pistol ball, struck Miss Moxie on the left side of the face, ran down and across the breast to the other side of the body, burning a path in both body and clothing until the current reached the stocking, ripped that open, tore the shoe from the foot, driving some of the nails out of the heel, thence through the treadle of the instrument and the floor, killing a chicken under the house.

There was no evidence of the current touching the roof or any part of the house, except the ceiling and the floor. Miss Moxie was carried out of doors into the rain and soon regained consciousness.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Risks Her Patrimony.

Putting her share of the $10,000,000 estate of her father in jeopardy, Miss Flora Ann Whitney was married to Rudolph Alfred Demme of Bern, Switzerland. The bride is the second daughter of David Whitney, Jr., and is the wealthiest young woman of Detroit. The groom comes from one of the oldest and most aristocratic families of Switzerland. The match between Miss Whitney and Mr. Demme was opposed. Mr. Whitney had no objections to Mr. Demme personally, but he has a strong antipathy to foreigners.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

A CHAT WITH CHANDLER.

His Views of Public Men and Presidential Candidates.

"I have reached the age when many of my opinions of men are qualified by comparison and reflection. Although I fought Grant and the third term, I recognize many noble elements in his character. Knowing Grant, Sherman and Sheridan and seeing some defects in each of them, I place Grant higher than the other two. General Sherman—perhaps I may say the Shermans—were not exact. Sherman was wrong in his Joe Johnston treaty and never forgave Stanton for compelling him to be right. Poor Stanton! He had both Grant's and Sherman's popularity to contend with, but he always was heroic. Grant's treaty with Lee put it out of the government's power to prosecute anybody for treason. Lincoln felt that, and when Sherman also undertook to settle the civil status by a treaty Stanton acted as Lincoln's agent. I have read the entire history of Lincoln by John Hay, whose summer place is a few miles above here, and I read it competitively with Greeley, Sherman, Sheridan, McClellan, etc., before me, and I cannot criticise one chapter in it. Remarkable, it seems to me, that two young men whom Lincoln fetched to Washington with him should live with him all his official life, survive him 25 years and absolutely complete their work in that interval.

"The candidates named are all acceptable. Perhaps McKinley has less of the stiffness which gives a strong party administration than the others. Allison would make a winning candidate and a delightful and also a sturdy president. There is nothing factional about him. We printed in our newspaper at Concord, with editorial indorsement, an article from another paper by a young editor in New Hampshire, who was enthusiastic for Reed, and I still think that Mr. Reed promises to give the best party results of any of the candidates named. He is the only positive personality among them, the man who requires no urging to advance and take a bold position, to hold it and to advance again. While New England is probably for him, I recognize that he is a good way from the west, where the silver question is prominent.

"Robert Lincoln is a negative man. That is why he is spoken of rather than speaking. But he is a wise man, a man of his father's humor as well as wisdom, a man of delightful quality and safety; also a man of tact. He was amiable and efficient in three cabinets and now is a man of great experience. I may add that he is an able lawyer."—Interview With Gath For New York Journal.

The Chinese Court.

The ceremonial of the Chinese court is somewhat exacting. It used to include, if it does not now, complete prostration before the throne. Last century a Persian envoy refused to go through the degrading ordeal. Directions were given to the officials to compel him by stratagem to do so. On arriving one day at the entrance to the hall of audience, the envoy found no means of going in except by a wicket, which would compel him to stoop very low. With great presence of mind and considerable audacity the embassador turned round and entered backward, thus saving the honor of his country.—London Standard.

EXTENSION OF THE ELECTRIC ROAD

A New Scheme to Cross the Erie's Tracks by a Tunnel Below Grade.

The latest scheme to extend the electric road to the State Hospital is to make a cut on West Main street, beginning near Bonnell street, so as to pass under the Erie tracks at Knox's crossing.

It is claimed by those who advocate the scheme that it is an entirely practicable one, and can be done without injury to adjoining property. If this is true, then it is certainly the most desirable plan, as it would be the safest kind of a crossing and would put a stop to all talk of abandoning that portion of the street.

It is said this plan will be submitted to the Erie officials and doubtless the only objection they will bring against it is that of cost, as such a piece of work would be much more expensive than the one proposed by the Erie officials.

A Very Much Surprised Farmer.

James Kelly was drawing hay near Montgomery, Thursday. The weight of the hay pressed the rigging down upon one of the wheels and the friction continued until the hay caught fire, when he was near the residence of Daniel Van Alst. The load was blazing briskly before Mr. Kelly discovered that it was on fire. He had barely time to unhitch his horses and in a few minutes hay and wagon went up in smoke.

Two Lives Saved.

Mrs. Phoebe Thomas, of Junction City, Ill. was told by her doctors she had Consumption and that there was no hope for her, but two bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery completely cured her and she says it saved her life. Mr. Thos. Eggers, 139 Florida St. San Francisco, suffered from a dreadful cold, approaching Consumption, without result everything else had bought one bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery and in two weeks was cured. He is naturally thankful. It is such results, of which these are samples, that prove the wonderful efficacy of this medicine in Coughs and Colds. HAS BEEN GRANTED A PATENT.

J. C. Degnan Will Receive Government Protection Upon a Valuable Invention.

Mr. J. C. Degnan, of this city, has been granted a patent for his improved water mixer for bathing appliances.

The object of the invention is to secure a mingling of hot and and cold water for delivering to a shower bath, hand spray or douche, and obtain a uniform temperature, something that had not been accomplished by any other device.

In all previous inventions designed to accomplish the desired object hot and cold water pipes were connected at opposite ends of a single tee or opposite sides of a chamber, thus producing opposing currents, but the variation in force of current by the drawing of water from either pipe at another point rendered the flow so irregular that a uniform temperature could not be obtained.

In Mr. Degnan's invention, however, a uniform temperature of any desired degree can be had.

The machines are now in use in the Middletown and Hudson River hospitals and giving excellent satisfaction. They are one of the luxuries of this modern age and will doubtless meet a ready sale.

HURT ON THE ROLLER COASTER.

Mr. G. B. Horton, of Goshen, Has His Foot Injured While Trying to Stop a Car.

The story that a man was hurt on the roller coaster at Midway Park on the Fourth, while trying to prevent a collision with a car in front that had become disabled, was not without foundation. Mr. Gurd B. Horton, of Brooklyn, who is spending the summer in Goshen, put out his foot to stop a car and did prevent it from dashing into one filled with children, but in so doing his foot was so badly injured that he is confined to his room, unable to walk.

Why One Woman Was "Mad Enough to Cry."

A Newton woman, who was preserving cherries, after heating the fruit and sugar, poured it into bowls and set it out of doors to let the sun do the rest of the preserving. A busy bee discovered the sweet mixture and spread the glad tidings among his friends and neighbors and they passed the word along until all the bees in Newton, tens of thousands of them, were dipping their heads into the woman's preserves. They could not be driven away and emptied every bowl.

Kingston's Dog-Loving Aldermen.

In order to prevent the adoption of an ordinance requiring the muzzling of dogs allowed to run at large six dog-loving Kingston Aldermen left the council chamber, last night. In the debate on the proposed ordinance Alderman Thompson suggested that "instead of muzzling dogs it would be better to muzzle some of the children."

More Rainy Weather Predicted—A Hot Wave Coming.

The Weather Bureau's predictions hold out no hope of settled weather until Monday, and the best that they can say for that day is "probably fair." A hot wave, which sent the temperature up to 98° at some places in the West, yesterday, is drifting slowly eastward, and unless it is side-tracked may be expected to affect this section, Monday.

A Famous German Doctor's Work.

Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup, Coughs, Colds, Pneumonia, and all throat and lung diseases are quickly cured by Dr Otto's Great German Remedy. Sample bottles of Otto's Cure are being given away by our agent, John J. Chambers, No. 21 West Main street, Middletown. 1

A Word to the Wise is Sufficient.

DIRECTIONS for using CREAM BALM.—Apply a particle of the Balm well up into the nostrils. After a moment draw strong breaths through the nose. Use three times a day, after meals preferred, and before retiring.

Price of Cream Balm is fifty cents.

THE NEW NORTH STREET CROSSING.

The Work Being Pushed as Rapidly as Possible, but It is Necessarily Slow—No More Jolting.

The work of putting in a new crossing for the electric road over the Erie tracks is being carried forward as fast as possible for such a piece of work, but it is necessarily slow, and while it is in progress, patrons of the electric road are required to transfer. They can well afford, however, to stand this inconvenience for a day or two longer for the sake of the advantages of the new crossing, for when it is completed they can cross the Erie tracks without being shaken out of their shoes or having their spinal columns dislocated.

The new crossing is in sections made up of steel rails bolted together, there being a section for each of the Erie tracks and switches. The section for the east bound Erie track was put in yesterday afternoon, and that for the west bound track immediately after train 9 passed, to-day, and those for switches, this afternoon.

These are continuous rails for both the Erie and the electric roads, with merely space enough between for the flange. The old crossing was made of castings and the flanges of the electric car wheels had to mount the Erie rails, and it was this that caused the jolting of cars.

A connection was made about 2 o'clock, by which cars were able to cross the Erie track, much to the relief of passengers.

The new crossing works admirably, but will work better still when the rough edges are worn off by the flanges of the wheels and the proper grade is established.

THE ASYLUMS MAY REORGANIZE.

State League Clubs Disband—Old Asylum Players Likely to Return.

Johnstown, Gloversville and Amsterdam have all dropped out of the New York State League, and Middletown's ball players may be expected home at any time. The Asylums may be reorganized and the base ball loving public of this city may yet see some good games. There are but three clubs left in the State League out of the eight which started the season, Binghamton, Elmira and Schenectady.

Base Ball Notes.

—President Freedman, of the New Yorks, has offered the Philadelphias $7 500 to release Turner or Delahanty. Turner was formerly a member of the Asylum team.

First Get Your School House, Then Ventilate It.

The Plumbers' Trade Journal quotes from the ARGUS a paragraph relative to the recent visit of members of Middletown's Board of Education to Warwick to inspect the Smead system of heating and ventilating in the new school building there, and then advises the Board, before adopting the Smead system, to get the opinion of a competent ventilating engineer on its merits and defects. This is good advice, but it is not timely. The Board of Education has other things than ventilating systems to think of now. It is necessary to get your school house before you ventilate.

The Injured in the Trolley Collision Doing Well.

Motorman George Moran, who was injured in the trolley collision on the Fourth, is still at the hospital but is hobbling about on crutches. The others who were injured in the collision are getting along as well as can be expected, though Richard Carson's cut and broken arm causes him a great deal of pain.
